Teamsters Asked About Check on Beck School Bond Issue Vote Tomorrow, Noon to 9 P.M.

An Editorial

UP TO THE VOTERS

Tomorrow the citizens of Kingston will have an opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not they want a second junior high school.

The polls of the election districts will be open from 12 noon to 9 o'clock in the evening. Voting machines used at regular elections will be provided and you can vote in secret.

The "yes" or "no" vote will be on a proposed bond issue of $2,667,500 for construction of a 1,000-pupil junior high school.

The question has been put before the people for the past month. The Freeman has devoted considerable space because of the importance of this local school bond issue. We have published a series of questions and answers and accounts of information meetings before parent-teacher groups, service clubs and other civic bodies by the Kingston Board of Education. These published reports covered enrollment figures, birth rates, school building needs, school program requirements, selection of Dietz Stadium for the site of the proposed school and the breakdown of costs and payment.

We also have published material in opposition to the bond issue submitted by the educational committee of the Kingston Civic Association. In these articles the question of consolidation, building the school at this time, the proposed site, cost of erecting the school, non-resident enrollment and area school decisions were raised.

The some 16,000 eligible to vote have had ample opportunity to be informed on the issues. Failure to do so must be attributed to indifference upon the part of the taxpayer.

We feel, however, that the majority of the people certainly are acquainted with the facts and that they know what they want in the matter of educational opportunities for our youth. We also feel they can be trusted to express themselves forthrightly.

Every qualified voter should make it his personal business to take part in determining this referendum. In no other way can the results express the wishes of the people, as they are supposed to do and should do.

Your duty to vote is an obligation of citizenship.

The challenge of growth, as indicated in the special census recently taken here, faces us. There is nothing to be gained by procrastinating. The arguments for the construction of the new school are overwhelming.

Hotel, Boat Livery Fires Cause $650,000 Damage

Two fires in New York state—one at a Staatsburg resort hotel—yesterday caused total damage estimated at $650,000, the Associated Press reported.

Fire destroyed White Wall Manor, a two-story, 30-room resort hotel near the Dutchess county community. Officials estimated the loss at $150,000.

A $500,000 fire destroyed a boat livery, 225 boats, 100 outboard motors, a private home and a garage at Lake George.

The Staatsburg hotel was not yet open for the summer. There were no injuries, it was reported.

Require 250,000 Renew Chauffeur Licenses May 31

Albany, May 6.—For 250,000 chauffeur license holders, it's time to renew that license.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today issued a reminder of the May 31 expiration date and urged chauffeurs to check the expiration date on their licenses.

Special Requirement

Commissioner Kelly also reminded the for-hire drivers that a doctor's statement will be necessary for renewal in all cases where there is a history of fainting spells, diabetes, stroke, Bright's disease, excessive high blood pressure or any heart ailment.

If the affliction occurred prior to the date the last license was obtained, the license will be renewed immediately if the application is accompanied by a physician's statement that the applicant is capable of operating safely on the highways, but the case will be subject to later review.

However, if the affliction occurred since the last license was issued, the license will not be renewed until the case has been reviewed by the Bureau's Safety Division in Albany. The application and physician's statement will be accepted but renewal issuance will be deferred pending the review.

9 Polling Places in City Areas Over 16,000 Are Eligible to Vote

Vote on a proposed bond issue of $2,667,500 for construction of a junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area will be held Tuesday from noon to 9 p. m.

Approximately 16,000 voters are eligible to cast their ballots in the referendum. Those eligible are persons who were registered for the 1956 elections—16,094—plus about 25 more who registered during the weeks of April 1-6 and 8-13 at the municipal auditorium.

Voting will be secret at nine polling places throughout the city. The districting is based on the city's ward system, but in certain cases wards have been combined.

Strong Campaign

The Kingston Board of Education has pressed a strong campaign in recent weeks, holding a series of informational meetings during April.

It is the feeling of the board that the school is essential to the educational program of the city, that the proposed 1,000-pupil school is required simply for its resident children alone, regardless of the consolidation issue.

Opposition has arisen from the Kingston Civic Association, however, which feels that the matter of consolidation should be resolved first.

The board feels, on the other hand, that if it waits for resolution of the consolidation issue, education in Kingston will be set back several years and that pupil load will force the board to institute "double sessions."

Submitted to People

Votes on similar school bond issues in the past have been handled by municipal officials but on July 1, 1951, an article of state education law made city school districts fiscally independent. All bond issues requiring more than five years to pay off must now be submitted to the people. The issue for the proposed school will be 20-year bonds.

Cost of the four major contracts have been estimated by the architect, Augustus S. Schrowang, at $2,131,192. In addition to this amount, however, there is an architect's fee, cost of furniture and equipment, storm and sanitary sewers, etc.

Nine Districts

The city will be divided into the following districts for the balloting:

District 1—(Wards 1 and 10, School No. 8.

District 2—(Ward 2) School No. 6.

District 3—(Ward 3) School No. 5.

District 4—(Wards 4 and 5) School No. 4.

District 5—(Ward 6) School No. 3.

District 6—(Wards 7 and 8) School No. 2.

District 7—(Ward 9) MJM School.

District 8—(Wards 11 and 13) George Washington School.

District 9—(Ward 12) Firehouse on Hurley avenue.

Would Tighten Point System For Safer Driving in State

Albany, N. Y., May 6.—Gov. Harriman has asked his new nine-member Traffic Safety Committee to study the feasibility of tightening the state's "point system."

The governor, who appointed the committee yesterday, also said he wanted the committee to evaluate the state's highway safety program and make recommendations for its improvement. The point system is aimed at persistent violators of traffic laws. It provides for the suspension of a driver's license if he accumulates six points in two years or eight points in four years.

Two points are charged against a driver's record for speeding and reckless or dangerous driving convictions. One point penalties include passing a red light or stop sign, passing a stopped school bus, and crossing a double line on the highway. Licenses are suspending immediately and automatically for drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident or causing death with a motor vehicle.

Harriman designated his secretary, Jonathan B. Bingham, as chairman of the new committee.

Other members: Safety Director Michael H. Prendergast, Tax Commissioner George M. Bragalin, Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe, Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., State Police Supt. Francis S. McGarvey, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly, Public Works Supt. John W. Johnson and Lloyd Maeder, executive director of the State Traffic Commission.

Harriman said the committee's work would not overlap the functions of the traffic commission, which concentrates on traffic engineering.

'Tight Money' Is Major Issue

Democrats Map Drive To Control Congress

Washington, May 6.—Democratic leaders agreed today the Eisenhower administration's "tight money" policies will be a principal target for their effort to retain control of Congress next year.

Sen. Smathers of Florida, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said three days of party meetings indicate the principal issues of the 1958 campaign will be "tight money, government economy and tax reductions."

In separate interviews, seven Democratic governors generally agreed the party can win both the 1958 Congressional elections and the 1960 presidential race if they can convince the voters that higher interest rates are damaging the farmers, home buyers, small business men, and consumers.

Foreign Policy

Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1956 presidential nominee, said he also expects the money situation to be a potent issue. But he added in an interview he believes the election will turn to the Democrats on the Republican handling of foreign policy.

He accused Republicans of placing "domestic matters above all others in their consideration of world problems." And in a television interview yesterday (NBC Meet the Press), he said the administration has misled the American people and lost some respect and confidence abroad.

Stevenson emphasized foreign affairs while former President Truman spoke on domestic issues at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner the Democrats staged Saturday night. National Chairman Paul M. Butler said $150,000 was netted toward erasing the party's $660,000 deficit.

Caution Against Cuts

Truman, Stevenson and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, in their prepared speeches, cautioned against cutting too heavily into President Eisenhower's budget, but Stevenson outlined that section of his speech along with another which said "nothing shows more copiously the feebleness of the Eisenhower administration than the budget mess."

But Truman, who will be 73 years old Wednesday, hit that angle hard. He referred to Eisenhower's submission of a $71,800,000 spending budget and his subsequent statement that Congress should cut it if it could.

Truman, saying he was "completely confused" by Eisenhower's (Continued on Page 5, Col. 6)

Rose Trial, 4 Others Put Off Until June 12

New York, May 6.—Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh postponed today until June 12 the trial of William Richard Rose, former president of the Home National Bank of Elmhurst, N. Y., and four others accused of conspiring to misappropriate the bank's funds.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams previously had stated that an examination of the bank's funds begun November 30 last by national bank examiners revealed that there were 180 accounts in the bank, overdrawn by $1,400,000. Rose is represented by N. LeVan Haver of Kingston, N. Y.

The other defendants scheduled to be tried with the 51-year-old former banker are Joseph Di Candia, 42, of Cragmoor, N. Y., president of the Anjopa Paper and Board Manufacturing Co., Inc.; Mrs. Margaret Brush, 30, of High Falls road, Accord, N. Y., bookkeeper for Anjopa; Mrs. Celia Hoffman, 48, and Mrs. Anna Schandler, 50, operators of the Hotel Ziegler in Fallsburg, N. Y.

Woman Is Injured As Truck Crashes Meadow St. Home

A woman was injured when a truck crashed into a Meadow street house Saturday afternoon and four other persons were reported hurt in five other city traffic mishaps over the weekend.

Mrs. Alfonso Williams, 29, an expectant mother, who lives on the first floor of the damaged house at 46 Meadow street, suffered injuries of the head and legs and was to be treated by a doctor.

Hits Hole in Road

Officers Thomas McGrane and Harold DeGraff reported at 5 p. m., that a panel truck, owned by the State Fish Co., 42 Ann street, and being delivered there by Robert E. Saulpaugh, 30, of 132 Second avenue, from the M&N Service Station, 62 Hasbrouck avenue, crashed into the house after it "struck a large hole in the road."

The truck was headed south on Meadow street, and the driver "lost control" after it hit the hole, the report said.

The house, owned by Sadie Farber, of Columbus street, was damaged on its "entire front, and downstairs" the report said. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, and their two-year-old son, James, occupied the first floor, and Emma Hicks, 72, lives on the second floor.

Two Others Injured

Two others were hurt, one an infant, in a two-car collision at O'Neil street and Smith avenue, Saturday.

Keith Allen Freer, three-weeks-old infant, of 7 South road, Mt. Marion, a police report said, was thrown from the front seat, and was to be treated by a doctor. Injuries were not listed.

Officers McGrane and DeGraff reported at 4 p. m., that a sedan, operated by John H. Garrison, 78, of 19 Elmendorf street, was headed east on Smith avenue, and a car, owned by Harry Freer, of 7 South Road, Mt. Mar-

EVACUATION STARTS—Civil Defense warden Larry Campbell, wearing helmet in back, watches as Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rozelle and their family leave their home in Binghamton, N. Largest Mock Bombing a Success

'Raid' on Binghamton Sends 1,500 28 Miles

Deposit, N. Y., May 6.—Fifteen hundred persons from Binghamton, 28 miles away, moved into this rural village yesterday in the largest Civil Defense evacuation ever attempted in the nation.

Local homes and schools were opened to the visitors, who fled their homes because of a mock H-bomb attack.

Much hard work was involved in the exercise, but there were few faults to find. In effect, the affair turned into a pleasant Sunday picnic.

Civil Defense leaders came here from across the country to see whether such a test would work. They left praising the "remarkable cooperation."

Official Satisfied

A top federal Civil Defense official said he was "satisfied" that many of the operation worked out in the exercise could be adapted to the U. S. program for survival against an H-bomb attack.

The exercise, labeled "Evac 12," had been planned by the New York Civil Defense Commission for more than a year. These plans had been worked out in the smallest detail; it paid off.

The exercise called for an "H-bomb" to strike the middle of highly industrialized Binghamton.

Volunteer Group

The evacuees volunteered from among 10,500 residents in Binghamton's 12th ward, a fringe area where the number of survivors might be larger than in other areas.

As sirens screamed, mothers and fathers hustled their children into private automobiles. Two caravans, totaling 374 cars, made the trip over a winding, mountainous road without accident and drove in orderly manner to this village of 2,000 along the New York-Pennsylvania state line.

Those without transportation rode school buses.

A train carried 110 persons, including 30 adults on litters, the "wounded" and "disabled," and children "separated" from their families.

Deposit was ready for them.

Union Hits Charges as Slanderous Pledge Is Made To Fight Break-up

Washington, May 6.—The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee put it up to the Teamsters Union international board today to say what it is doing to find out whether President Dave Beck has in fact misused union funds.

What the committee called "the apparent failure of the international union to investigate" charges against Beck and other officers was a main point in accusations against the union itself by the committee.

Corruption Stressed

It was stressed in a bill of particulars to a general accusation that the union is dominated by corrupt influences.

This was given to reporters soon after the five-member committee began a closed door session with the Teamsters board. Beck is a member of the board.

On its part, the Teamsters board got out a statement calling the general charges "malicious and unfounded slander." This was given to newsmen as the members went into the meeting.

Two VPs Named

In addition to Beck, the committee's bill of particulars specifically named two Teamsters vice presidents—Frank W. Brewster, boss of the western conference of the union, and Sidney L. Brennan, of Minneapolis—and what it said was the apparent failure of the international board to take action with respect to charges against them.

The ethical practices committee's 22-page bill of particulars noted that Beck repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination when questioned by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee about his handling of union funds.

What Document Says

The document then said: "His constitutional right to do so is recognized."

"It does not appear, however, that the international union has undertaken, or proposes to undertake, any investigation into whether its president was in fact guilty of personal corruption in the handling of union funds and

Chandler Says Policing Is Professional Status

Police work should be accepted as a profession by having educational standards established for it, Col. George F. Chandler, organizer and first superintendent of the New York State Police, said at a dinner held in Poughkeepsie Saturday evening.

Col. Chandler, a retired physician and surgeon who formerly served as surgeon-in-chief of Kingston Hospital, now makes his home in this city at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

He spoke Saturday evening at a dinner sponsored by the Association of Former New York State Troopers, held at the Nelson House, in observance of the 40th anniversary of the state police.

Francis S. McGarvey, superintendent, said the state police has asked the legislature to construct a new state police school in Albany.

Col. Chandler said educational standards could be established by enlarging the present state police school, or having the State University organize a course of study leading to a bachelor of police.

"The state police has been successful for 40 years," Col. Chandler said, and will render an important service to the state as long as the state is in existence."

Superintendent McGarvey, referring to the state police request for a new school, said, "We have the property and plans for the school and the faculty to fill it if we ever get it."

He said state police now numbered 1,374 men, and reported it was his desire to have the force increased because of the "burden of our work."

The superintendent said the traffic situation "is one of the greatest problems and something has to be done about it."

Approximately 250 persons attended the dinner dance, Dutchess County Judge Schwartz was toastmaster.

Staatsburg Barber Robbed, Two Wounded Accidentally

The proprietor of a Staatsburg barbershop was beaten over the head with a lead pipe and robbed of approximately $600 in cash, a pedestrian was struck by a car, two persons received accidental gunshot wounds and three persons suffered minor injuries in two vehicular accidents during the past weekend in Ulster county and surrounding areas.

Frederick Hess, 65, of Mountain View road, Staatsburg, owner of the barbershop, was operated in good condition today at the Northern Dutchess Health Center, Rhinebeck, where he was admitted suffering head injuries following an attack by an unknown assailant about 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

Attacked in Drive

Rhinebeck state police reported that Mr. Hess told them he closed the shop about 10:10 p. m., drove to his home about a mile away, parked his car in the driveway and started toward his house carrying a package of groceries in one arm and a bag containing about $1,000 in his other hand.

He said he heard someone rush up behind him suddenly and that

Costello Sure Small-time Punk Did the Shooting

New York, May 6 (AP)—A rash of theories arose today in the mystery shooting of former underworld czar Frank Costello—one of them that the gunman was a small-time "punk trying to get a reputation."

This notion of the crime was attributed to Costello himself. He was quoted as saying he was "sure it was a punk who wanted to be feared by saying he was the one who shot the boss."

"But I'm not the boss . . . I'm out of action."

Police also were reported looking for a woman described as Costello's "girl friend," who was said to have disappeared from her hotel shortly after the bullet creased Costello's scalp last Thursday night.

Costello was shot in the vestibule of his apartment house, off Central Park, after he alighted from a taxicab that brought him from a midtown restaurant.

Police Theory
Newspaper accounts said police are convinced the gunman was sent to New York from another city, probably in the middle west. Descriptions of the man have been sent to other cities.

The gunman was seen by a companion of Costello's on the night of the shooting as he fled the apartment building and left in a dark Cadillac driven by another man.

As for the missing woman, unidentified by police, reports said she may have been the person Costello telephoned shortly before he left the restaurant, and could have relayed word of his departure to the gunman.

Budget Reflects Cost of National Security, Peace

Buffalo, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—

Walter Williams, under secretary of commerce, declared today that the administration's proposed budget of $71.8 billion for 1958 reflected the high cost of national security and peace.

"The price of security and peace is not cheap," Williams said. "Wars and rumors of wars, in the ancient Biblical phrase, are at the basis of our major ills in the world over," he said. "This is easy to see in our budget expenditures for the past, present and possible future wars—or to head them off."

Williams made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of the 37th annual Conference of the National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks. The conference ends Wednesday.

He said that the "public has had a bad case of 'budgetitis' ever since President Eisenhower submitted his proposed budget for fiscal 1958."

A proposal to spend $71.8 billion, even if more than balanced by estimated government receipts, has engendered a discussion which seems to be based on misinformation or insufficient information," he said.

Williams said the President's budget should be measured in terms of "the gross national product, the 'national heap' of goods and services expressed in terms of their market value."

Under the measure, he said, "budget expenditures in fiscal 1953 were 20.8 per cent of the gross national product and have declined each year under this administration to an estimated 16.2 per cent in fiscal 1958."

"The same result is obtained," he added, "if you express the budget as a percentage of national income: down each succeeding year from 24.7 per cent in fiscal '53 to an estimated 19.4 per cent for fiscal 1958."

Williams said that funds budgeted for "major national security alone account for 8.5 per cent of the increase over the current fiscal year."

"Add related national security programs," he added, "and we find that, of a total budget increase of $2.9 billion over 1957, over 90 per cent is represented by increases for major national security and related programs."

Bayonet Game Is Fatal to Boy, 14

Medina, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—A bayonet-throwing game called "chicken" cost the life of a 14-year-old boy Saturday in what police called a tragic accident.

Stephen Gary Chapman was struck in the heart as he stood against a shed wall taking his turn in a game with neighborhood boys. He died 10 minutes later.

The game, the boys told authorities, was to toss the bayonet at each other, taking turns as targets, to see which one would flinch or—"chicken" first.

Police said the bayonet was thrown by John Pittard, 14, a longtime playmate of "Gary." They were playing at John's home.

They said John told them the 14-inch blade caught in his sleeve as he threw it deflecting it before Gary could duck.

John said he got the bayonet, believed to be a World War I souvenir at school, presumably from another boy.

Dr. Walter Shifton, Orleans county coroner issued a certificate of accidental death.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 6 (AP)—The stock market continued irregular early this afternoon with a slight tendency to the upside.

Leading stocks were ahead from fractions to around a point.

The market was hovering just below the 1957 highs but trading was slightly less than the end of last week when the market almost penetrated the year's high.

Rails made a somewhat better showing than other major divisions.

There were also fair gains among some of the oils. Motors were firm. Steels were mixed as industry reports were of fewer incoming orders than anticipated.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 20 cents to $181.90 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails up 40 cents and the utilities unchanged.

High Officials Attend

Vice President Nixon and other high officials attended the ceremonies. President Eisenhower sent an aide, Jack Martin, as his representative.

In the Senate ceremony, the Rev. Frederick Brown Harris said the furor over McCarthy's investigating methods in the early 1950s could be forgotten in this solemn hour.

Now, the Senate chaplain said, "there is the peace of a calmer appraisal" in which all Americans can hail "his clearly defined objective—which was to expose cunning foes who under cowardly cover plot the betrayal of our freedom."

Aroused Vigilance

"And so," Harris said, "this fallen warrior through death speaks, calling a nation of free men to be delivered from the corollary of a false security and from regarding those who loudly sound the trumpets of vigilance and alarm as mere disturbers of the peace."

Mrs. McCarthy and members of the immediate family sat together in the private corridor just off the Senate chamber.

The Senate sat hushed and solemn during the 18-minute ceremony contrasted in the past by the activities of McCarthy and his detractors.

'Manly Devotion to God'

The 25-minute Senate service ended with a prayer by the Rev. William J. Avalit of the cathedral staff that McCarthy be judged mercifully as a man who served his nation with "a manly devotion to his God."

Then, for a moment, the late senator's sister, Mrs. Roman Kornely of Appleton, Wis., stood looking at the spray of red carnations which covered McCarthy's old desk in the front row. She smiled slightly, as though in approval, and with the Marine bearers walking ahead—the coffin was wheeled from the chamber.

Some of McCarthy's staunchest defenders sat in silence alongside his bitterest foes.

McCarthy Called Fallen Hero in Senate Eulogy

Washington, May 6 (AP)—The Senate chaplain eulogized Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy as a "fallen warrior" in the cause of Americanism today in a funeral service in the Senate chamber where the Wisconsin Republican was a storm center in life.

The Senate ceremony, unusual in recent years, followed a solemn funeral Mass at St. Matthew's Roman Catholic cathedral.

At the cathedral services, drawing a crowd of more than 1,100 which overflowed the pews, a churchman called the Senator a fearless "watchman of the citadel" who revealed to millions of Americans the threat of communism.

McCarthy, 48, died late Thursday from an acute liver ailment.

First Service Since 1940
The service in the Senate chamber was the first of its kind there since the 1940 funeral of Republican Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho.

Mrs. McCarthy, the former Jean Kerr, fought back tears as she left the cathedral behind her husband's body for the trip to the capitol.

Standing at attention in the bright sunshine outside the church was a Marine honor guard, which later moved to the capitol and formed a double line through which the flag-draped casket was carried up the steps to the Senate wing.

McCarthy was a marine veteran of World War 2.

Kingston Native Named Principal Of Tillson School

Tillson, May 6—The board of education of the Tillson school has announced the appointment of Ernest Hopper of Cedar Swamp road, Jericho, as principal, effective in September, to replace George Fernandez, who recently announced his resignation.

Mr. Hopper, a native of Kingston, has for the past four years taught intermediate grades at East Meadow, L. I. He also has taught the 7th and 8th grades. At Tillson, in addition to his duties as principal, he will teach the 7th and 8th grades.

Mr. Hopper is married, and has a 20-month old son. His wife is from Forest Hills.

Mr. Hopper is president of Bowling Green Teachers Association, and gained experience working with children at the Police Boys club for three years, instructed teen-agers in basketball, and supervised athletics at summer recreation programs. He did post-graduate work at Hofstra College, L. I. He is also director of Audio Visual Aid for the East Meadow school system. Hopper completed undergraduate work in dramatics, concentrating especially on children's theatre. He is a member of the East Meadow Teachers Association, New York State Teachers Association, the National Education Association, New York state Audio Visual Council, the Long Island Audio Visual Council and the Long Island Approved Umpires Association.

The board announced that they had accepted with regrets the resignations of Mrs. Albert Hutton, second and third grade teacher, and Robert Murray, who taught grades 5 and 6. At the present, the board is interviewing applicants for these positions.

Relative to the petitions concerning consolidation with Kingston, the board issued the following statement after attending a consolidation committee meeting at Kingston. It was stated that only 20 per cent of the petitions have been signed:

"The board advises the taxpayers of the school district to sign petitions to insure that we are included in the vote if and when it takes place. This will allow us to have some control over our destiny in respect to any reorganization."

"It is understood that if we don't petition, then there is a possibility of being put in an</

Wall Street Perks Up As Boom Seems on Way

New York, May 6 (AP)—Sentiment flowers quickly in Wall Street. The abrupt change from fears of a recession to confidence that the present sideways movement of the economy will be followed by another boom—and more inflation—sent the stock price average for a brief time Friday to a new high for the year.

The Associated Press index, still some distance below the high reached in April 1956, is now comfortably above the low point in mid February of this year. Then the stock market was taking its cue from business sentiment which was mostly on the gloomy side.

Some of Factors

Sentiment changed when it became evident (1) that things weren't turning out as badly as expected, (2) that inflationary forces were still strong. Here are some of the factors in the first category:

Earnings for the first three months of this year were good for more than half of the companies reporting. And this pleased Wall Street in spite of warnings by some of the profit parade leaders—oil companies, for example—that the upswing might not hold.

Retail trade dollar volume in the first four months held higher than a year ago, even if largely because of price increases.

There were notable shifts in consumer buying interest from one type of product to another, but there was little sign that the consumer was holding back on spending the money he had. This helped keep over-all industrial output stable. Recessions in certain industries were offset by strength in others.

This seeming evidence of the continuation of the rolling adjustment pattern which has characterized the postwar period convinced the bulls that this business phase would take the shape of the ones before—a breather followed by a new boom.

The inflationary side of the shift in sentiment reveals itself in these facts and expectations:

The cost of living has continued climbing month after month. This has convinced some people that we can expect a two or three per cent rise in prices each year. This belief feeds the first of speculation in the market.

Interest rates hold high or edge higher. To the bulls this indicates that the demand for funds for expansion is unabated.

Railroads are getting a passenger fare boost, which makes their stocks more attractive to traders.

Wage scales rise, often automatically as a new year rolls around. With total employment high, this means rising personal incomes on which industry and trade can draw.

More Spending

Government spending seems set to add an extra fillip soon. Coming on top of steady consumer spending, the added money which federal, state and local governments will pour into the economy could edge industrial activity a bit higher. Business spending for expansion, modernization and research is expected to be higher, too.

These are the things the bulls are counting on and why they ignore some other factors: Reduced home building, less than sensational car sales, sliding steel production, sluggish metalworking activity, and narrowing profit margins for many businesses.

But sentiment in Wall Street notoriously is subject to sudden change. If the summer lull should prove more pronounced than expected, the bears might regain the play.

And every day the bulls and bears, as usual is the kaleidoscope that is the stock market, will have their turns at individual stocks.

Ovid, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—The funeral of former Mayor Frank Limmer will be held here Wednesday afternoon. Limmer, who was mayor from 1943 to 1953, died yesterday at his home in this Seneca county village. He was 76.

Would Keep Probe Non-Political One

New York, May 6 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) says partisan politics shouldn't be a factor in the Senate probe of labor rackets.

"If we go to work and use a little intelligence and don't play partisan politics with the thing as was done with the Taft-Hartley Act," he said yesterday, "I think we can clean up the mess in a relatively short time."

"If we mix this with partisan politics, it will be a terrible disservice to the country."

Ives, vice chairman of the Senate special committee on improper activities in the labor and management field, spoke in a filmed television interview (WOR-TV).

Urges All to Vote

Editor, The Freeman:

May I take this means of thanking The Freeman for the very complete coverage you have given the matter of the proposed Junior High School on which we are to vote on Tuesday. Careful reading of the arguments on both sides leads me to the conclusion that we should build the proposed school on the site selected and to build it as soon as possible.

I am aware of the complexity of the problem, having served on the Board of Education for four years ending June 30th last. This matter has been carefully weighed, by the board for the past few years and I consider the present decision to build a new junior high school a sound one. The men and women comprising our Board of Education have had the guidance of the state department of education as well and I have every confidence in their good judgment in this matter.

May I urge every qualified voter to vote, regardless of whether they will vote yes or no. May the will of the majority of the voters of our city decide the issue. The right to vote is a great privilege and we should use it on Tuesday.

Blame Shared for Underbid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

West opened the king of hearts against the three spade contract and shifted to the ten of diamonds.

South won with the king, led a spade to dummy's king and played a second spade. East played the jack, South the queen and West won with the ace. West led his last spade whereupon South spread his hand, announcing that he would trump one heart and discard the other heart on dummy's ace of diamonds.

As is frequently the case when three is bid and five made there was some slight disagreement between the underbidders as to which one should take the blame for missing the game.

Both must take some blame. North might well have jumped to four spades directly over his partner's bid of two. He had a sound hand with four spades, good controls in both minor suits and a singleton heart. Give South some really miserable hand with five spades to the queen-jack, the queen of clubs and a doubleton diamond, four spades would almost surely make.

Thus North made the first contributory error when he bid three spades only but it really should not have mattered.

South should have bid four spades without stopping to look back. The only excuse for South is that perhaps no one had ever told him that there is a nice juicy bonus awarded to the side that wins the rubber.

Don't Wait for School Problems:

Building Junior High Solution, Soper Says

Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston city schools, today urged approval of the proposed junior high school at Dietz Stadium and stressed a perceptive solution "of our problems rather than wait for them to present themselves."

Mr. Soper, in a letter to The Freeman, said it is "especially important" that qualified voters look to the future rather than attempt to solve problems on an emergency basis.

Points to Basis

He indicated that information meetings, held in conjunction with the new school proposal, have "established conclusively on the basis of birth and enrollment, the need for the junior high school."

"Our citizens will want to remember that the Board of Education has done everything possible to point out the impending educational problems and encourage support of their solution," Mr. Soper said.

Reviews Objectives

"With the consent and approval of the Kingston Daily Freeman, I would like to take this opportunity to review the objectives of the recent information campaign conducted by the Board of Education during the month of April in preparation for the special election to be held on Tuesday, May 7. It has been the purpose of our Board of Education to conduct a high calibre and dignified program.

Our board has provided the story of the need for the school, the cost, the story of the location, the educational plan and the legal requirements through a special brochure distributed through the schools as well as a special issue of "Focus," also distributed to the parents and public. Through the courtesy of The Kingston Daily Freeman, an extensive question and answer series has been promoted as well as coverage of the news release of information meetings conducted by the Board of Education.

Explained at Meetings

"These information meetings have been held before the three service clubs, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary and before the Parent-Teacher organizations at Schools 3, 4, 5, 6, and George Washington.

"At these information meetings, the board has established conclusively on the basis of birth and enrollment figures, the need for the junior high school. They have shown that the plan was promoted cooperatively with members of the staff, school administration, New York State Education Department officials, Kingston Planning Commission and Board of Education representatives. The board has demonstrated that the school district is in a good financial position to pay for the school and provide the classrooms necessary for the children. In this regard, the board has pointed out that after 1961 the bonded indebtedness would actually decrease.

Calls for Action Now

"It is especially important that we, as good citizens, look down the road to the solution of our problems rather than wait for them to present themselves and then attempt to solve them on an emergency basis. Our citizens want to remember that the Board of Education has done everything possible to point out the impending educational problems and encourage support for their solution. Without such support the Board will be required to face enrollment and financial problems which defy solution. Solution could only be on some emergency basis which in essence would provide a restricted program to some, inconvenience to many and certainly with less attention to the best interests of the students of our schools."

Former Sheriff Dies

Westfield, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday afternoon for Clarence D. Bell, 71, former Chautauque county sheriff. Bell died yesterday at Westfield Memorial Hospital six days after being critically injured in a tractor accident at his home. Coroner Theodore S. Morse, who issued a certificate of accidental death, said Bell died of pneumonia which followed the accident. He suffered a fractured hip and other injuries when the tractor overturned and pinned him beneath it.

FBI OFFERS SOME GRIM FACTS

Americans can take no comfort at all from the FBI's latest report on major crimes in this country. They were up 13.3 per cent in 1956 over 1955, and altogether have soared four times as fast as the population since 1950.

There always seem to be those who stoutly resist the idea that crime in America is truly on the increase. They like to suggest that the nation's huge population boost accounts for everything. The facts indicate otherwise.

The 2,500,000 major crimes committed last year are the positive proof that a bigger and bigger share of our people are indulging in wrong-doing. The unhappiest part of the story, of course, is that youths under 18 played a heavy role in the total picture.

In 1956 the number of persons in this age category rose only 3 per cent in cities, yet arrests in this group rose 17.3 per cent. Nearly 46 per cent of arrests for major crimes in cities were of youngsters under 18.

The figures are hardly something to be laughed off with the comment that "boys will be boys."

FOOD ADDITIVES

Chemicals in astonishing number are added to our foods for a variety of reasons. Some are preservatives, some are softeners; others improve, or at least alter, flavor and color. Laboratory tests have shown some of these additives to be harmless, even beneficial. Others, however, are added to food without sufficient tests to show whether or not they are harmful.

Under present law, chemical additives need not be proved harmless before they are put into foods. For some years, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has sought changes in the law that would require thorough testing of additives before, rather than after, they have been used in foods sold to the public.

A bill to require the testing of chemical additives before using them in food is once again before Congress. Though it has received less attention than many other measures, this bill is of great importance to the public. Congress has had ample time to consider the matter. This needed change in our federal law should not be allowed to fall by the wayside again at this session.

NO HURRY

A certain rough, tough writer who turns out rough, tough novels that are long on violence and cruelty but short on literary merit has not had a new title on the book stands for some time now. His publisher is reported to be getting a little impatient.

This author's books, which are to be seen in paperback editions on news stands and in drug stores all over the country, have had a phenomenal sale. This does not speak very well for the literary tastes of the American public, which has neglected many infinitely better novels. It is discouraging that so many thousands of readers seem to prefer the output of a man whose books are full of sadistic sluggings, beatings and shootings.

But at any rate, the publishers are said to be anxious to get their hands on the next manuscript full of blood, torture and violence. As for us, we can wait.

NO REASON FOR BEING

The simplest way now to fight the Communist Party in America is to publish the records and documents of murder, betrayal and crime of which the Russian leaders are guilty, and to emphasize over and over again one proposal. The Communist Party of America, and the similar parties of all the free countries, have no reason for existence. They should disband.

Let the Communist Party of the United States fold up its tent. Let its membership walk out. No one needs it. Khrushchev himself even has little need of it, and probably holds it in supreme contempt, as Stalin is reported to have done.

Again, let the American Communist Party disband, quit, give up. The sooner

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

JOE

Much has been written and said about Senator Joe McCarthy during the past several days while he lay dying and when he finally went to his Maker.

I knew Joe intimately and favorably. No matter how men may differ about him, I always knew that Joe McCarthy had no interest other than the welfare of his country. He firmly believed that all Communists had to be traitors and he set out to find them. He was successful in some measure, but he also suffered from a sense of failure because he knew that agencies of government and high officials protected men and women whom they should have despised. He sought for motives and often reached the conclusion that many men were fearful that their own mistakes would be exposed; he felt that fear and vanity rather than ideological positions played a great part in determining men's attitudes toward him and his work.

We often discussed the brutal force of the opposition to him and this he never understood, because he could not believe that some of his opponents wanted to protect Communists. He never understood the Army fight upon him because he held that it was the Army's first duty to protect this country from Communists and traitors. I was present at the notorious luncheon in New York when McCarthy, Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens and his counsel, John Adams, lunched and drank and cavorted throughout an afternoon. What came out of the McCarthy-Army hearings was never the whole story nor had the various versions of the Cohn-Schine episodes anything to do with the situation at all. And I can say, from first-hand knowledge, that Bob Stevens had little or nothing to do with the effort to destroy McCarthy.

This was a political manoeuvre to eliminate McCarthy's importance, to kill his influence as an American citizen, to make his name abhorrent and to frighten off any Senator, journalist or radio commentator who chose to support him or his cause. So far as Joe McCarthy was concerned, the manoeuvre succeeded to a startling degree.

Those who engaged in it—and their names came out during the hearings—knew Joe's characteristics; they knew that he was gentle and aggressive; rough in the fight and forgiving immediately afterwards; humble in his heart but giving the impression of cantankerousness. They also knew that while he appeared to be hale and even physically powerful, he was not a strong man, suffering physical pain, sometimes so much pain that he had to give way to it.

They knew all his weaknesses, for some of them had, since he came to the Senate, acted as though they were his close personal friends. They left him bitter, disillusioned, hurt. He was hounded to death by those who would not forget and could not forgive. He was a lonely man among his associates and he often wondered who were his friends.

He and his Jeannie adopted a little girl and that brought Joe a happiness which he had not ever known before. There can be no question that he regarded the 1958 Election as a problem because he realized the forces that would be pitted against him. He believed that he would ultimately win that election and he said that he did not fear his opponent, Walter Kohler, but there can be no question that he recognized that he would have to take on the entire Eisenhower Administration, the Modern Republicans, the Committee for an Effective Congress, the money that would be raised against him in New York by the mysterious Arthur Goldsmith, the Communists, their fellow-travellers and dupes. It meant a fight—a terrible fight and his health was ebbing away.

It is often said that you can only really know a man if you live with him. I did not live with Joe under one roof, but there were times when we saw much of each other and when I was intimately concerned with his effort to drive the Communists from American life. As an American, as a Jew, as an anti-Communist, I can proudly say that Joe McCarthy was my friend and that I have never encountered an opponent whom I have equalled him in patriotism and courage. God bless his soul and forgive those who sent him to his death. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MENTAL HEALTH MONTH

This month is the time of the annual nationwide campaign of the National Association for Mental Health for membership and funds. This association is made up of more than 500 state and local mental health associations throughout the country and is a voluntary nonprofit organization which has the approval of the U. S. Department of Health. The slogan is "The Mentally Ill CAN Come Back—Help Them—Give." What is needed is the same type of concentrated support which the public gave to conquer polio and if millions of us support the Mental Health Campaign, these unfortunate mentally ill may once again be with their loved ones. If not, they'll continue to languish away in our institutions, which are so woefully understaffed and under-equipped, perhaps to the end of their lives.

Let us look at the facts. Mental or emotional illness is the most common cause of human disability and it has been found that one out of every ten children born this year will some day land in a mental hospital—double the rate of 20 years ago. Right now, 750,000 patients are in mental institutions, more than the total hospitalized for all other diseases combined. It is a terrible picture, isn't it?

The most widespread of all crippling mental disorders is schizophrenia. Thirty years ago only one out of five had a chance of recovery; today three out of five have a chance of partial or total recovery. PROVIDED THEY GET EARLY AND ADEQUATE TREATMENT.

Schizophrenia, which means shattered personality, generally has one or more of the following effects on its victim: They lose touch with the real world around them; they suffer delusions of persecution (imagining people are plotting against them); they believe that they are some imaginary thing or person, other than their true selves; they suffer hallucinations (hearing voices and seeing objects which are not there); they sit or lie motionless for hours, sunk in their own imaginings; they lose interest in their appearance and control of their personal habits, very often deteriorating into "human vegetables."

With increased life spans, the mental diseases of old age (cerebral arteriosclerosis and senile psychosis) have joined with schizophrenia to emerge as today's "Big Three" of the mental cripples. Together, these three account for 65% of all new admissions to psychiatric hospitals. Cerebral arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries of the brain) and senile psychosis (the mental illness accompanying senility) have very many symptoms in common. Some of the effects on their victims are: Their memories and mental processes falter; they become confused as to where and who they are and often fail to recognize relatives and friends; they develop imaginary illnesses; they have delusions; they lose control of personal habits and have to be tended like infants; they are subject to bursts of violent anger; they become hostile and extremely suspicious.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Moscow's broadcast that the United States was "casting aspersions" on the activities of the Soviet embassy staff in Washington and at the United Nations headquarters in New York has provided this capital with a large laugh.

For since the end of World War 2 the United States has declared 14 Soviet diplomats "persona non grata" and forced their return to Russia for various crimes up to and including spying.

Radio Moscow complained also that "slanderous allegations" were being made against the Soviet ambassador. The fact is that all these Russian diplomats who were asked to go home worked for either Ambassador Georgi Zarubin in Washington or Russia's Chief Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev at UN in New York.

And strong implications have been made that the two top Russian diplomats in this country are responsible for their underlings.

AS A MATTER of record there has been Communist diplomatic espionage in the United States ever since 1919 when Ludwig Murten became first Soviet representative. He was deported for espionage in 1921, along with one of his clerks, Arthur Alexandrovich Adams.

Adams returned later to head Russia's most extensive prewar and wartime spy rings.

Soviet espionage really got hot in the war years through the Russian Purchasing Mission and Lend-Lease administration. In 1945 a young Russian engineer named Victor A. Kravchenko defected and subsequently wrote his book, "I Chose Freedom," which exposed the Soviet espionage system publicly.

That same year Elizabeth Bentley, a Communist courier, told all to the FBI and saw to it that the FBI witnessed her payoff of $2,000 and a medal from Russian First Secretary Anatoli B. Gromov. Under diplomatic immunity, he left the U. S.

In March, 1946, the FBI arrested Russian naval Lt. Nicolai G. Redin for trying to buy plans of the U. S. Yellowstone, in Portland, Ore. Indicted by a federal grand jury and brought to trial, he was nevertheless acquitted.

In 1948 Russian Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin was sent home for trying to hold captive Mrs. Olskane Kosenkina, who jumped out of a window to seek refuge in the U. S.

JUDY COPPOLA and her Russian boy friend, Valentin A. Gubichev, were convicted of espionage in 1949, but the Soviet UN secretary escaped sentence by returning to Russia.

In the last five years there has been an increase of these cases involving Washington and UN Russian diplomats. This list does not include the Rosenberg, Gold, Greenglass, Fuchs and other atomic, non-diplomatic spy cases.

January 1953—Yuri V. Novikov, embassy second secretary, declared persona non grata for directing the work of two convicted spies, Kurt Ponger and Otto Verber.

February 1954—UN Second Secretary Alexander F. Kovalev and Commander Igor A. Amosov, assistant naval attaché, on charges of espionage.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

May 5, 1937—The public works department planned to demolish the former Riber building on East Strand for use of the property as a public market.

The Herzog Company announced it would close its store on East Strand.

May 6, 1937—Verinda Brown, former Father Divine "angel" filed suit in Supreme Court to take control of all property, including real estate, valued at more than $200,000.

Work of installing poles for new street lights neared completion in the uptown area.

May 5, 1947—The county indicated interest in reviving the apple blossom festival, which was first held in 1938.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks at an "appreciation" dinner in Rhinebeck, said the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge was "a certainty."

May 6, 1957—A strike of cement workers in nine state plants, including those in the Catskill area, continued with 1,500 workmen reported off their jobs.

High water was reported in county streams after heavy rains.

Labor at the Crossroads:

Unions Face Major Crisis In Wake of Scandal Probes

(Editor's note: Is labor facing the same hostile public attitude that rose against big business a half century ago? What is its future? Here is the first of five articles on where labor stands now and what its prospects are in the light of congressional inquiry and growing concern among its leaders.)

By RELMAN MORIN

Washington, May 6 (AP)—Is organized labor nearing a new crossroads in its relations with the federal government, management, and its own members?

To many leading figures, in and out of unions, the answer already is at hand—an emphatic "yes."

Not since the fiery debates over the Taft-Hartley Act, a turning point 10 years ago, has sharper controversy flared over questions of new legislation to meet the problems of union and employer.

How to supervise pension, welfare and union funds? What about a federal "right-to-work" law—permitting a man to work in an organized plant without joining a union? What penalties for corruption initiated by either management or labor? What rules to govern their respective financial contributions and activities in political campaigns?

What About Uncle Sam?

Some state governments, in different ways, already have taken action in these fields. What next from Uncle Sam?

Testimony in the Senate on malpractice in the Teamsters Union highlighted the problems and touched off an explosion of jagged-edged words, "betrayal of public trust . . . scandal . . . serious crisis . . . shock."

They came from union officials, men describing themselves as friends of labor, many newspapers.

In Detroit, Frank Rosenblum, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, said:

"The labor scandal will prove to be a Roman holiday for labor haters and reactionaries . . . already a barrage of anti-labor bills has been submitted in Congress and the various state legislatures."

Most Serious Crisis

In Atlantic City, a Catholic priest, Msgr. George C. Higgins, bluntly told the United Automobile Workers Convention:

"The labor movement is confronted with perhaps the most serious crisis in its entire history. . . . Labor is now discovering that no particular class of people has a monopoly on virtue, not even the workers. . . . In the long run it undoubtedly will be good for its soul."

In Chattanooga, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told the Southeastern Building Trades Conference: (D-Tenn.) told the Southeastern Building Trades Conference: "The fact that corruption is not a one way street, and that labor racketeering and corruption frequently involve collusion with employers, is no excuse."

Hostile Public Opinion

An editorial in The New York Times said: "Organized labor faces a hostile public opinion much like the antibusiness sentiment of 50 years ago. Another parallel is sure to follow: The regulation of unions by the government."

Some segments of labor acted swiftly.

The AFL-CIO Executive Committee suspended Teamster President Dave Beck as one of its vice presidents, and set his hearing for today. Among the letters applauding AFL-CIO President George Meany was one signed by over 200 members of Teamster Local 604 in St. Louis.

The UAW appointed a Watchdog Committee of prominent nonunion men and gave it authority to investigate and review union actions.

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, set a 10-day period for officers to disclose whether any had accepted gifts

Fewer Elections Sought

Had the Senate hearings affected union organizing efforts or representative elections?

"I have the impression that fewer elections are being sought right now," a National Labor Relations Board official said.

In the south, unions lost some elections to be certified as worker representatives. Labor officers denied, however, that these setbacks resulted from anti-labor sentiment stirred by the Senate hearings. "The south has always been tough to organize," they said.

One union reportedly told its field men to "forget organizing for awhile."

Contrasting Report

Another union official said, by contrast, "in both Texas and the southeast our people report bigger attendance at meetings of the locals, and more organizing going on."

The central figure in all this is a dry, slow spoken, hard working Arkansas lawyer, Sen. John L. McClellan. He is chairman of the select committee investigating labor and management practices.

"The magnitude of this picture hasn't yet appeared," he says. "A conservative estimate would be that we have at least 100 complaints of major proportions that should be investigated."

He pointed to a stack of letters on his desk. The total is now over 30,000. "Most are from union men," he said, "and they're giving us still more information all the time."

He read one from members of a local in greater Cleveland which he did not identify. It asked him to investigate the local and said:

Against Dictators

"All we seek is the opportunity to do our work to the best of our ability and earn a decent wage. Please continue to reaffirm our belief in freedom to live without union corruption and dictatorship."

A union leader, commenting on the volume of McClellan's mail, said, "sure, we get lots of gripes and complaints here, too—and 90 per cent of them turn out to be groundless when we investigate."

McClellan said he believes the basic problem is a "deficiency of the democratic processes" in the unions. An oft-repeated complaint, he said, is that "they are under a dictatorship, and that they either have not had an election of officers in their local for years, or if they have had, that the elections were manipulated and crooked."

As the Senate inquiry moved along, UAW President Walter Reuther said, "the overwhelming majority of the leadership of the American labor movement is composed of decent, honest, dedicated people . . . but unfortunately, in certain unions the gangsters and crooks and racketeers have moved into position of power."

And the clothing workers' Rosenblum said, "no doubt we shall have to take the punishment from the rotten eggs in our midst."

Tomorrow: Labor's growth—from weakness to strength.

Today in National Affairs

McCarthy Seen Leaving A Legacy of Controversy

Washington, May 6—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is gone—but he has left behind a legacy of controversial issues that it may take years to resolve.

The Wisconsin senator was a relentless fighter for what he believed to be right. He might have won the "censure" battle in the Senate in 1954 if, while under severe strain during the proceedings, he had not tactlessly antagonized many Senators who were disposed to be objective about the issue.

For the Senate was dealing with a delicate question—right of free speech in Congress uninhibited by threats of punishment. Never in the history of the Senate had any member been "censored" for expressing his opinions, no matter how distasteful or unpopular they were. The Senate finally abandoned the word "censure," with its historical connotation of punishment, and substituted the milder word "condemn." Even so, the Senate resolution set a bad precedent of interference with free speech. For to condemn a man because of the opinion he expressed is what has been called "McCarthyism at its worst."

If ever a man was hounded to death because of his beliefs, it was Sen. McCarthy. His health was impaired by the strain and tension arising out of the tactics and methods of his enemies. They ganged up on him from the day when they saw he was making headway with his crusade against communism in government. The Communist newspaper, "The Daily Worker," in New York was the first to give persistent publicity to the word "McCarthyism."

There was no limit to the innuendoes, baseless charges and whispering campaigns directed against Sen. McCarthy in an effort to discredit him. For it was assumed by many of his opponents that, if McCarthy the man were discredited, the whole drive against Communists in the government would collapse.

Tax Rumors Recalled

Some strange chapters remain yet to be fully explained. One is the vicious spread of rumors that Senator McCarthy had cheated on his Federal income tax returns, though it turned out in the end that the Treasury Department owed him money and sent him a refund check for overpayment of his taxes. Yet, before the Internal Revenue Bureau could complete its investigation, the campaign to maneuver Sen. McCarthy into a public hearing in which his enemies would have a chance to impugn his honesty was participated in by a Senate Subcommittee consisting mostly of his opponents. Although Sen. McCarthy was re-elected Senator by the people of Wisconsin in November, 1952, after his refusal to testify before that same committee, his opponents in 1954 nevertheless used that refusal—which had occurred in a previous term of office—as a basis for the start of "censure" proceedings.

Another episode, still unexplained is the case of Paul H. Hughes, who posed as a member of Sen. McCarthy's staff and collected big sums of money from various sources high up among the so-called "liberals" with the promise of "revelations" derogatory to Sen. McCarthy personally. At any moment during that long period, the fact that Hughes was not an employee of any Congress-sional committee could have been established through the careful inquiries of an alert newspaper man. But the record in the perjury case that followed in the courts reveals a paradoxical example of "McCarthyism" in reverse. So is the current persecution of Scott McLeod, once a close friend of Sen. McCarthy and a stalwart fighter against communism in the government, who has been nominated by President Eisenhower to be Ambassador to Ireland. Vice President Nixon has also been a victim of the same kind of tactics by the so-called "liberals," who in 1952 spread false accusations about him.

Senators Contribution

Sen. McCarthy made many errors in judgement, sometimes lost his temper, and at times ignored the counsel of his best friends. He didn't, however, mind fair criticism. This correspondent in his dispatches at the time expressed strong disapproval of the Wisconsin Senator's attacks on Gen. Marshall and of the ill-mannered treatment given Gen. Zwicker at a committee hearing, and denounced Sen. McCarthy's break with President Eisenhower as a grave blunder. Looking back at all aspects of the tragic controversy, however, this writer remains convinced that it was most important to the cause of true liberalism in America to defend the right of a Senator to express himself freely rather than to see him deprived of that privilege by the coercive action of those who disagreed with his views. Principle is too often disregarded under the stress of emotion, inside as well as outside legislative bodies.

Sen. McCarthy's great contribution, of course, was to dramatize the necessity for a vigorous battle against Communist infiltration. The record shows a sad neglect by the State Department in the 1940s of the intrigue carried on there. This was repeatedly called to the Department's attention in confidential

Assign Pastors To Methodist Churches of Area

Newburgh, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—Methodist Bishop Frederick Buckley Newell says laymen should team with the clergy in voicing the church's stand against present-day evils.

Bishop Newell spoke yesterday at the conclusion of the 158th annual session of the New York Conference of the Methodist Church installation of elders and deacons and announcement of pastoral appointments marked the closing rites.

Kingston in Conference
The conference comprises New York city and southern New York state up to and including Poughkeepsie and Kingston.

"The present-day tendency for the voice of the church to be expressed only by the clergy is unfortunate," said Bishop Newell. "We need the voice of the laity, we need laymen who are religiously and morally vocal."

Ordained as elders at the closing session were: James J. Benson, Monticello; Gerald B. Bostock, Roxbury; Robert F. Falk, Cold Spring; Richard R. Guice, Ashok; Warren G. McCarty, Franklin; and Robert E. Meyer, Milton.

The following received deacons' orders: Harold J. Burris, Evanston, Ill.; Carl Caskey, White Plains; William H. Hunter III, Middletown; Cecil L. McFarland, Hurleyville; Duncan T. Trueman, Livingston Manor; Lester McGonagle, Lake Mahopac; and O. Gayle Miller, Tannersville.

New Superintendent
New pastoral appointments: Kingston district superintendent, W. B. Grossman; Andes and Pleasant Valley, E. P. Hawley; Bloomville, Richard Donnelly; Coeymans, New Baltimore, C. E. Brown; Trinity Church, Kingston, and South Rondout, R. E. Hughes; Olive Bridge, Samsonville, The Vly, Robert Bowering; Summit, Charlotteville, South Worcester, West Fulton, H. B. Kishpaugh.

Newburgh District: Cornwall, I. A. Marsland Jr.; Ellenville, C. P. Albertson; Fostertown, T. E. Carrick; Harriman, Southfields, W. H. Hunter; White Lake, Mongaup Valley, Hurd, Arthur Hewitt.

New York District: St. Luke's (Bronx)—R. S. Thorn Jr., Church of the Tarrytowns, Ossining—R. E. Spoor Jr.

Poughkeepsie District: Cold Spring, South Highland—R. F. Falk; Germantown, Tivoli, Glenco Mills, West Taghkanic—George B. Moody; Hudson—C. A. Melano; Lagrangeville—L. P. Taylor; Lee, Lenoxdale—J. H. McCombe; Pleasant Valley—C. E. Mills; Poughkeepsie (Trinity)—D. George Davies; Poughquag, Holmes, Wicoppee, Hortontown—H. L. Galloway.

ion, and driven by Miriam Freer, 21, of the same address, was going north on O'Neil street.

Inez Garrison, 84, of 19 Elmendorf street, police said, suffered a "bump on the forehead."

Two-Car Collision

Adelaide Dasher, of 38 Gill street, suffered shock, police said in another two-car accident on Delaware avenue at 5:55 p. m., Saturday. The one car, owned by Grace Colon, of 101 Abel street, was driven by Frank Colon, of the same address. Adelaide Dasher was driving the sedan of Charles Dasher, of 38 Gill street.

Anne Abelow, 39, of 279 Washington avenue, suffered an injury of the right side and was to be treated by a doctor after another two-car mishap at North Front and Fair street at 7:45 a. m., Sunday.

Police said a car owned and operated by Robert Abelow, 42, of Route 9W, Kingston, was headed west on North Front street, and had stopped for a light. The other car involved was owned and operated by Joseph McCordle, of 97 Third avenue. In another collision reported at 11:23 a. m. Sunday, a station wagon was knocked into a drainage ditch at Flatbush avenue and East Chester street.

Police said the car of May Florence Langham, 62, of 89 Elmendorf street, was headed south on East Chester street, and the station wagon, owned and operated by Mary K. Larsen, 36, of RD 1, Stone Ridge, was going east on Flatbush avenue. It went through a light and was hit by the other car, the report said.

Two guard posts were knocked down in the mishap. The station wagon was towed from the scene.

A report at 1:41 a. m., Sunday by officers Leonard Ellsworth and Floyd Krom said a car, owned by Clarence Stoutenburg, of 97 Gage street, and operated by George D. Smith, 23, of the same address, struck a sand pile near an excavation and turned over as it was headed east on Greenkill avenue.

IBM Announces Opening of First Radioisotope Lab

International Business Machines Corporation has announced the opening of the company's first Radioisotope Laboratory. The latest techniques will be used in the new facility for the study and analysis of components of IBM's data processing machines.

Located at IBM's Product Development Laboratory in Endicott, the new equipment provides instrumentation for radio chemical studies of machine parts such as bearings, electrical contacts, and gears, and for radiography (similar to X-ray) analysis of such components as heavy machine castings.

Used in Therapy
Local hospitals have been using radioisotopes in certain types of therapy and for treating tumors and cancer. They also employ radioisotopes as tracer elements for diagnosis where complex biological processes are involved. IBM appears to have established the first industrial laboratory in the Triple Cities area.

A typical application is illustrated by the study of metal structures. A radioisotope source is used like X-ray equipment for exposing film to find cracks and voids in castings. The picture on the film shows variations in density and thickness in the metal being studied.

A bust of Longfellow was placed in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey. No other American poet has been so honored.

er's statements, said he thinks they add up to an attempt "to shift all of the blame for the size of the budget to the Democratic-controlled Congress. Truman said this was a 'kind of political bunk played with the budget,' and an exercise in 'buck passing.'"

Wave of Hysteria

"A wave of hysteria is sweeping the country in favor of budget cuts," he said. "When the President won't defend his own budget, nobody is going to defend it for him—nobody."

"We can afford to spend what it takes to provide for the welfare and safety of our people," he added.

Truman said the "tight money" policy was "a reversion to the trickle down theory" of "help for those who don't need it."

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said he thinks the Eisenhower administration's money policies are going to lead to unemployment. He said this policy is bound to be a "top issue" in New York campaigning when he is expected to seek re-election next year.

Call Library Hazard

New York, May 6 (AP)—A church organist and his wife face eviction from their Greenwich Village apartment today because their heavy 1,000-book library is allegedly a safety hazard. Scheduled for ouster with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hennefeld are their 12-year-old cat and two Java sparrows. Lester Gunn, landlord of the three-room apartment (at 5 Cornelia street), contended the weight of the books was a safety hazard. His view was supported by a city building inspector at an eviction proceeding last September.

Best Laid Plans

Empire, Ore. (AP)—David Olson, 61, was preparing to move from a trailer house into a four-room cottage. While he was away, some one broke into the trailer and stole his clothing, groceries and a gun. That night the cottage burned to the ground.

George Washington named his home Mt. Vernon for British Admiral Edward Vernon. The first president's brother, Lawrence Washington, had been an aide to Admiral Vernon in 1742.

Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Town Clerk's office.

Scheduled at Presentation Church Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. is the regular Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help followed by benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and confessions. Mass is offered each morning at 7 and Saturday at 8 a. m.

Vacation Bible School Registration Is Set

Port Ewen, May 6—Registration has begun for the vacation Bible school of the Methodist Church scheduled for June 28, 29, July 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Parents may enroll children during Sunday school at either the Reformed or Methodist Church.

Enrollments may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard Adams, Mrs. Oakley Maynard or Mrs. William Schweigel. Children from three years of age through sixth grade are eligible.

'Bug' Test a Success

Geneva, N. Y., May 6 (AP) — "The Bug," a homemade submarine, has completed its first successful test run under water. It submerged 17 feet yesterday and ran several hundred feet under the surface of Seneca lake. The three brothers from Rochester who built the 20-foot sub said they were pleased with the way it handled. John McFarlane, 26, and his brother, Arthur, 22, went down in the sub for the half-hour test run. Pat, 19, stayed on the surface at the telephone connected to the sub. They said the sub cost about $9,000 to build.

Railroader Strangled

New York, May 6 (AP) — A 50-year-old Erie Railroad employe was found strangled last night in his west side apartment.

The nude body of Harry Nelson was bound with neckties at the ankles and with a bathrobe cord at the knees. A pillow covered his face. The body was discovered after a neighbor told the building superintendent of hearing "a lot of noise" in the Nelson apartment early Sunday.

SUFFERING IS A RESULT

By Charles A. Weaver, D. C.

When Robert Ingersoll said, "Suffering is not a punishment, it is a result," he was stating a well-known fact. Because many of our readers are Chiropractic patients and boosters we would merely be stating a well known fact should we say that pain or suffering that comes with disease is a result of a misaligned vertebra of the spine and violation of hygienic rules. You have learned that fact in the school of your own personal experiences.

Now at the first sign of physical suffering, you find wonderful relief through Chiropractic care. Many of you have even greater foresight and avoid unnecessary suffering by having periodic Chiropractic examinations and whatever care such examinations prove to be necessary. These people know that life is precious and do not want to waste one minute of their good health.

How much less suffering there would be if all people knew that while suffering is a result, health is also a result—the result of Chiropractic care, combined with hygienic living. If you take time for your health today, you will have health for your time tomorrow. To us, this is all-important!

on income tax evasion charges, and James R. Hoffa, a teamster vice president who is under indictment for conspiracy to bribe a Senate Rackets Committee investigator, chatted and posed for pictures with hands on each other's shoulders outside the AFL-CIO headquarters.

The board pledged itself, meantime, to fight any attempt "to break up or interfere with our organization."

Position of Federation

The position of George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and other leaders of the 15 million member federation is that the big Teamsters organization must clean out alleged corrupt influences or be kicked out of the federation.

The gist of statements from Beck and his union has been to the effect they are being persecuted, that nothing is wrong in the 1½ million member trucking union, and therefore no clean-up is needed.

Beck and some fellow Teamsters leaders have been under fire from Senate rackets investigators for alleged personal use of large sums of union funds.

Beck, indicted last week on charges of federal income tax evasion, has been summoned for more questioning Wednesday before the Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.).

The ethical practices group is headed by Al J. Hayes, president of the Machinists Union. Other members are Presidents George Harrison of the Railway Clerks, David Dubinsky of the Ladies Garment Workers, Jacob Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union. All are AFL-CIO vice presidents.

Beck himself is under suspension as an AFL-CIO vice president and is due to answer, at a May 20 hearing of the federation's executive council, charges that he has brought the labor movement into disrepute.

he was struck over the head with a pipe and fell to the ground. He told troopers that his assailant then struck him about 10 times about the head.

Gets Pipe Away

Mr. Hess succeeded in wrenching the pipe away from the man who then proceeded to kick him, also in the head, it was reported.

The man then took a tan leather wallet from the hip pocket of Mr. Hess and fled. The wallet, bearing the initials "FGH" contained between $600 and $700, state police said.

The man left the sack containing $1,000 in cash, however. The money in the wallet was in various denominations.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the Rhinebeck state police is investigating.

Woman Reported 'Fair'

The pedestrian struck by a car is Anna May Clapper, 48, of 19 Smith avenue. She is reported "apparently fair" at Kingston Hospital where she was taken about 8:45 p. m. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clapper were proceeding south on Route 9W about five miles north of Kingston when the car developed motor trouble and Mr. Clapper pulled to the side of the highway. Kingston state police said Mrs. Clapper, wearing dark clothing, got out of the car and started walking across the highway.

A car operated by Herbert Whitaker, 52, of Saugerties, traveling north at about 45 or 50 MPH, attempted to avoid striking Mrs. Clapper but hit her with the right front fender, knocking her to the east shoulder of the northbound lane. Trooper P. F. Crowley reported.

Apparently Confused

Mr. Whitaker told state police that he had his lights on low beam and didn't see Mrs. Clapper until he was very close to her. Trooper Crowley said Mrs. Clapper apparently became confused and attempted to run from the path of the vehicle as Mr. Whitaker applied his brakes and swung left.

Mrs. Clapper suffered lacerations of the forehead, abrasions of the shin and left arm and injuries to her left leg, it was reported. The mishap occurred near the Saratoga Cabins.

Two Are Wounded

Two young men suffered 22 caliber bullet wounds Sunday afternoon, one in the town of Ghent, Columbia county, and the other in Red Hook.

Henry W. Keller, 16, of Ghent, was handing a .22 caliber rifle to a friend at the Circle Seven Riding Club, town of Ghent, about 1 p. m. when the rifle fell to the ground and discharged. Young Keller was struck in the right side of his back about three inches above his right hip, according to Rhinebeck state police. The bullet penetrated about four inches, it was reported.

Troopers said Keller was handing the rifle to John Skye of Ghent at the time of the mishap. Trooper J. Farmer reported that Keller's condition was "not considered serious." He was taken to the Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson.

Condition Good

Reported in good condition at the Northern Dutchess Health Center, Rhinebeck, is William R. Manfredi, Jr., 23, of Poughkeepsie, who, according to Rhinebeck state police, accidentally shot himself in the right calf with a .22 caliber bullet as he was placing a revolver in a holster on his right hip.

Trooper J. J. Conway reported that Mr. Manfredi was releasing the hammer of the single-action revolver as he placed it in the holster and that the hammer slipped. He was visiting a friend in Red Hook at the time of the mishap.

Two Are Hurt

Two persons were treated at Kingston Hospital early Sunday night for injuries suffered when their car turned over at Mile Post 80 on the Thruway about 10 miles south of Kingston.

They were Sarah Duffie of New Paltz, the driver, and Lloyd Skaisky of 674 Broadway. The driver reportedly suffered a fractured rib and laceration of the head and Mr. Skaisky a laceration of the head. The driver was issued a summons for "endangering" returnable before Justice of the Peace Richard Lent of New Paltz May 10.

A Poughkeepsie woman injured her left knee late Sunday afternoon in a two-car collision on Route 9W in Port Ewen, according to Highland state police.

Winnie Maybery, 67, was reportedly hurt when a 1952 sedan operated by Charles Sharp, 48, Poughkeepsie, in which she was a passenger, was in collision with a 1953 sedan operated by Mrs. Myrna Todd, 41, of Port Ewen.

The Todd vehicle had stopped on Route 9W facing north about to make a left turn into Sunset Drive when the Sharp car struck it in the front. Mr. Sharp was issued a summons for "endangering" returnable before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen.

Emergency Ends

Port Au Prince, Haiti, May 6 (AP)—Haiti's army chief has declared the state of emergency ended in this Caribbean negro republic. But nationwide economic paralysis showed no sign of easing. Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave told reporters last night emergency restrictions imposed last December had been lifted because the confused political situation had returned "to normalcy." He canceled a callup of 3,000 army reserves and sent half the 5,000-man regular force on leave.

wardens took over and led the evacuees to shelter in the homes of the villagers. There, the evacuees filled out identification cards and postal change of address forms.

Among the evacuees was Lt. Gov. George B. DeLuca, who went through the entire operation and later expressed his satisfaction.

Deposit's modern, new high school was turned into general headquarters. A laboratory became an office for registering available manpower from among the evacuees. A gymnasium was turned into a ward for the disabled.

Lt. C. R. Heubner, (USA, Ret.), New York Civil Defense director, said the complete exercise cost less than $2,000, to be split by the state and federal organizations.

He said the main item was a hot meal of creamed chicken, tea, biscuits, doughnuts and coffee served to 3,000 weary evacuees and CD personnel.

At the end of the five-hour test, both Heubner and Raoul Archambault, executive assistant to Federal CD Administrator Val Peterson, said the exercise went a long way to refute the argument that public apathy was hindering Civil Defense effort.

"If we come up with a good sensible program, go to the people with it and they are convinced this is what they need," Heubner said, "then they will respond as they showed here today."

Archambault said he was impressed by "The remarkable atmosphere of cooperation." He said he was "satisfied" that part of the New York exercise would be "applicable to communities across the nation." He added:

"This exercise will be cited across the land as a demonstration of the type of thing that can be done. It refutes the talk of apathy to civil defense in America."

Despite the test's first trial, Heubner said he found no basic changes were needed from the original plans.

"They all seemed to work," he observed.

Brain Insurance for Your Business?

Why not?

You wouldn't dream of operating your business without fire or accident insurance. Or liability insurance.

Then why not insure your company's greatest future asset—educated brains!

There's only one place where business and industry can get the trained brains so vital to future progress. That's from our colleges and universities.

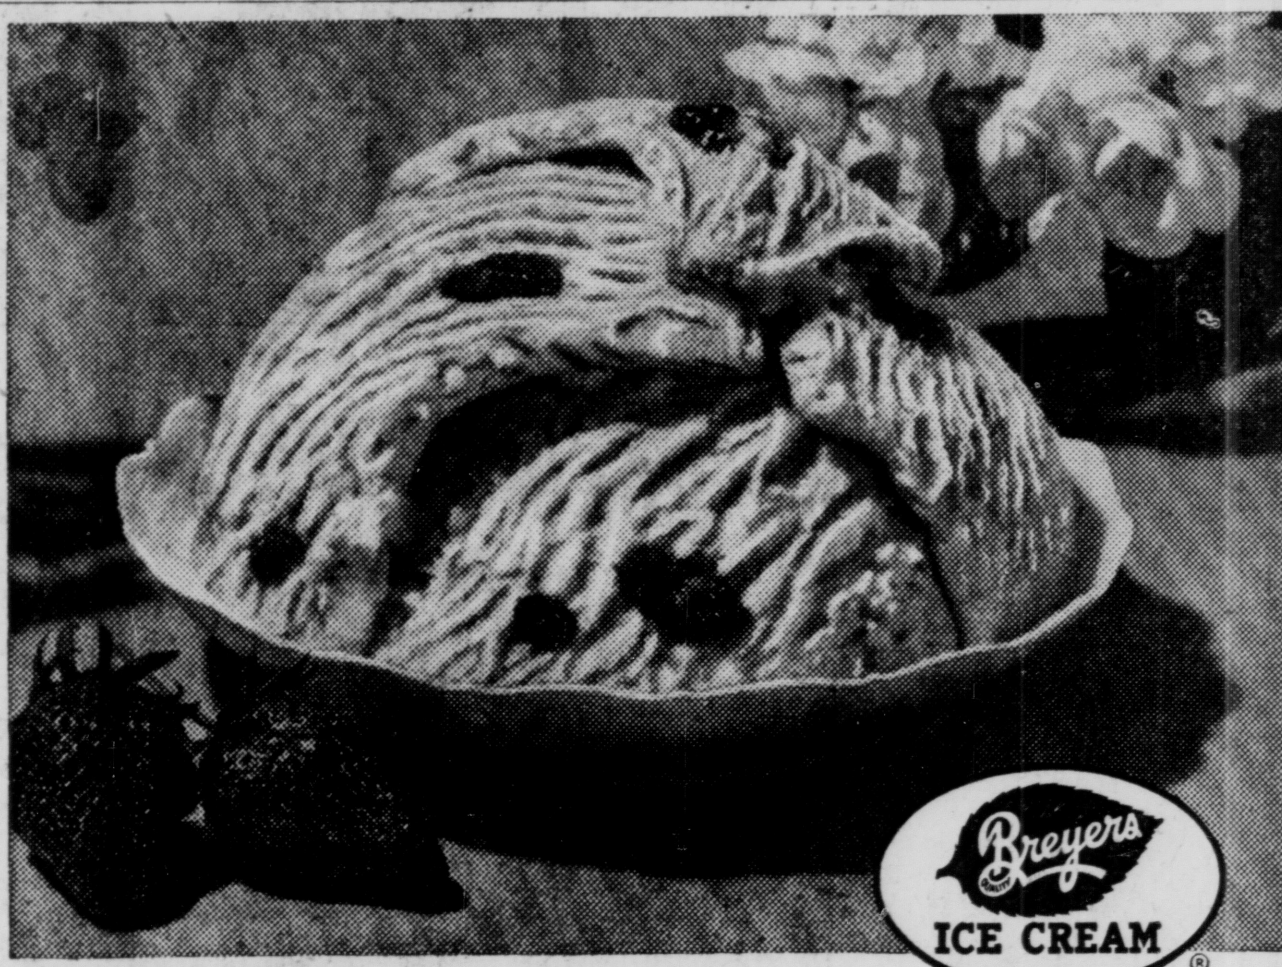

Today these institutions are doing their best to cope with a mushrooming demand for educated men and women. But they face a crisis. For the pressure of applications keeps mounting, facilities must be expanded, and faculty salaries must be raised to a respectable level.

Insure your company's, and your country's, future assets by helping the colleges or universities of your choice—now! The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Javits Says President Decisive on Rights

New York, May 6 (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) says President Eisenhower is "taking very decisive action" on civil rights.

Javits said yesterday "some people may be dissatisfied with the fact that he (Eisenhower) isn't going into the south to fight the battle on the stump there."

"Well, that isn't his method," said Javits. "He isn't that kind of fellow. On the other hand, he is a fellow who is taking very decisive executive action, which others have not."

Javits said Eisenhower brought about desegregation in the District of Columbia and is "a rather outstanding leader in the civil rights field."

Javits appeared on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

The District of Columbia (Washington, D. C.) occupies an area of 62 square miles.

Reds Criticize Press

New York, May 6 (AP)—Leaders of the U. S. Communist party have criticized their own press for "certain inadequacies and shortcomings."

The national committee announced yesterday approval of a report on "the need for improvement in many areas of news coverage and for effecting a deeper analysis of events."

The report was aimed particularly at The Daily Worker, the party newspaper published here. The report also mentioned "the need of improving the reportage of life and events in the socialist lands, especially for providing a more thorough-going Marxist analysis of the foreign policy of these countries."

John Gates, editor of The Daily Worker, has been regarded as favoring a more independent nationalist role for the party.

SHOOTING THE BREEZE—A gun that literally "shoots the breeze" has been developed by the Army Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, N.J. Officially called "Shooting Sphere Anemometer," the gun measures low-altitude wind velocity. Pfc. John Eaton, of Ripley, Mass., test-fires it, sending a small steel ball upward into the wind at an angle calculated to make it fall back into or close to the gun muzzle. Operator, by checking angle of gun, can get wind speed reading.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I am asked about the bluestone industry of Rondout and Wilbur. Following item may interest them: William D. Cashin was superintendent of the old Hudson River Bluestone Company on the Strand. He also worked for Hewitt Boice from which yard was used bluestone in the construction of the original Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York which was torn down some years ago, for erection of the Empire State Building. The Ulster County Society used to meet there. Mr. Cashin served as a member of the Board of Police Commissioners and also as superintendent of the Kingston Water Department.

Bluestone was quarried in various parts of Ulster county and often called North River Flagstone, and hundreds of men were employed in the quarries to ship the stone to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other big cities for sidewalks back in the 1880's. Rondout was the chief shipping point. Mr. Boice had several acres of ground on the Rondout Creek at Ponchockie for storing the stone, and cranes and derricks for handling it. He had a 50 horse power engine, large force of men operating the machinery, comprising planers, saws, etc., for splitting the stones into slabs and dressing and finishing them.

J. V. Cummings was a wholesale dealer of the North River Bluestone with a Wilbur post of use address. His bluestone was used mostly in slabs for copings, sills, lintels, gutters, curbing, and for building purposes generally. There were other immense stoneyards along the Rondout Creek at Wilbur, where the stone was drawn by heavy teams from the mountains and Grant house at Silver Hollow near Chichester. They had been staying at the home of Mrs. Brinkman's father, John Miller since their apartment was destroyed by fire at Mt. Tremper.

Andrew Hinckley spent Monday at Pine Hill.

Mrs. Eric Muller of New York is spending some time at her home here.

Miss Patricia Jones is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grant.

Mrs. Archie W. Alej Jr., of Big Indian spent Monday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Harbig.

Coincidence?

By FRANK TRIPP

Coincidence sometimes approaches miracle and leaves one on the verge of belief that miracles still happen. Here reported are three unrelated events that are close to the unbelievable. One happened just lately.

A few weeks ago, I told about a grandfather's clock at one of a lakeside home that had been striking the half hours over a period of seven years on its last winding.

That was unusual enough, and reminded us hourly of Will Gardner, our old caretaker who last wound it almost a year before he died in 1951. I told that Will still spoke to us every hour, and opined that perhaps his good fairy was winding the old clock, since mathematically it should have been stilled years ago.

Now I'm beginning to believe in fairies — and that they can read. I can only hope that you will believe this true account of what happened. I have two witnesses.

On the very day that the column appeared, the old clock stopped striking, rested three days, then struck again.

Coincidence of course. Still, I'm wondering.

THE OIL GAUGE showed no pressure when we were 150 miles away from home in the Pocono Mountains. I stopped to discover the trouble. A plug had worked loose and was lost from the drain line of the crank case; the oil was dripping on the pavement. Oil almost gone and no plug.

I locked down at the growing pool of precious oil. Right at my toe was something embedded in the macadam. I dug it out. It was a cap screw, and it exactly fitted the crank case drain hole. We had just enough oil to reach a distant gas station, cautiously.

Coincidence of course. Still, I'm wondering.

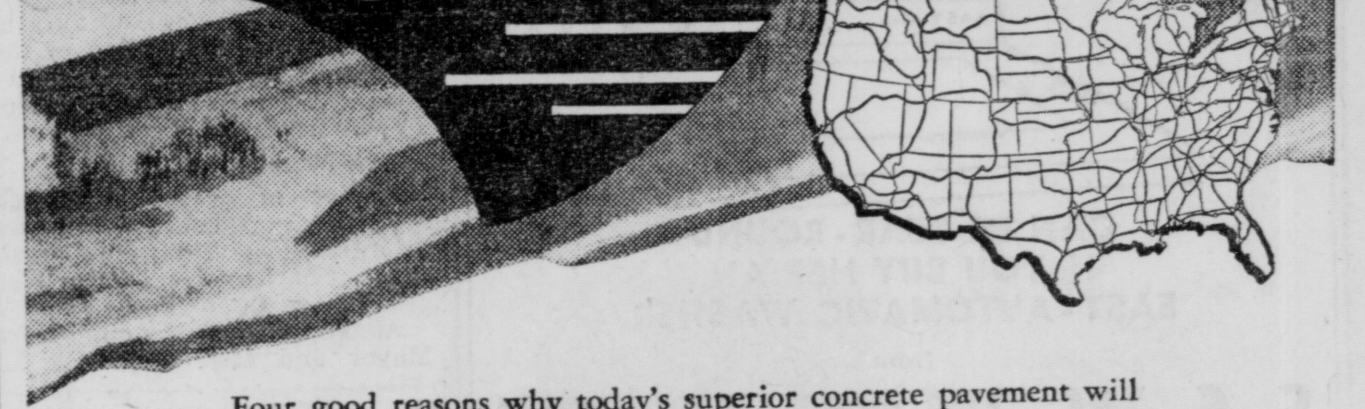

A DISTRAUGHT MAN came to me one day seeking a job on the old Brooklyn Eagle. Drink and wife trouble had lost him his job as a feature salesman.

We could not use him but long acquaintance made me want to help him. I offered him money. He would only accept two dollars to get him home, and left downcast.

Two hours later he bumped into a stranger in front of Grand Central Station. He bumped, then reeled, almost fainted. The stranger took him into

DESIGNED FOR THE FUTURE

Four good reasons why today's superior concrete pavement will save lives and dollars for generations of American drivers on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways:

1. Safety. Gritty texture for better skid-resistance, light color for higher visibility.
2. Durability. Much longer life than any other type of pavement.
3. Low upkeep. Lowest maintenance cost as proven by published records of 24 state highway departments.
4. Costs no more to build. Lower first cost than other types designed for the same traffic.

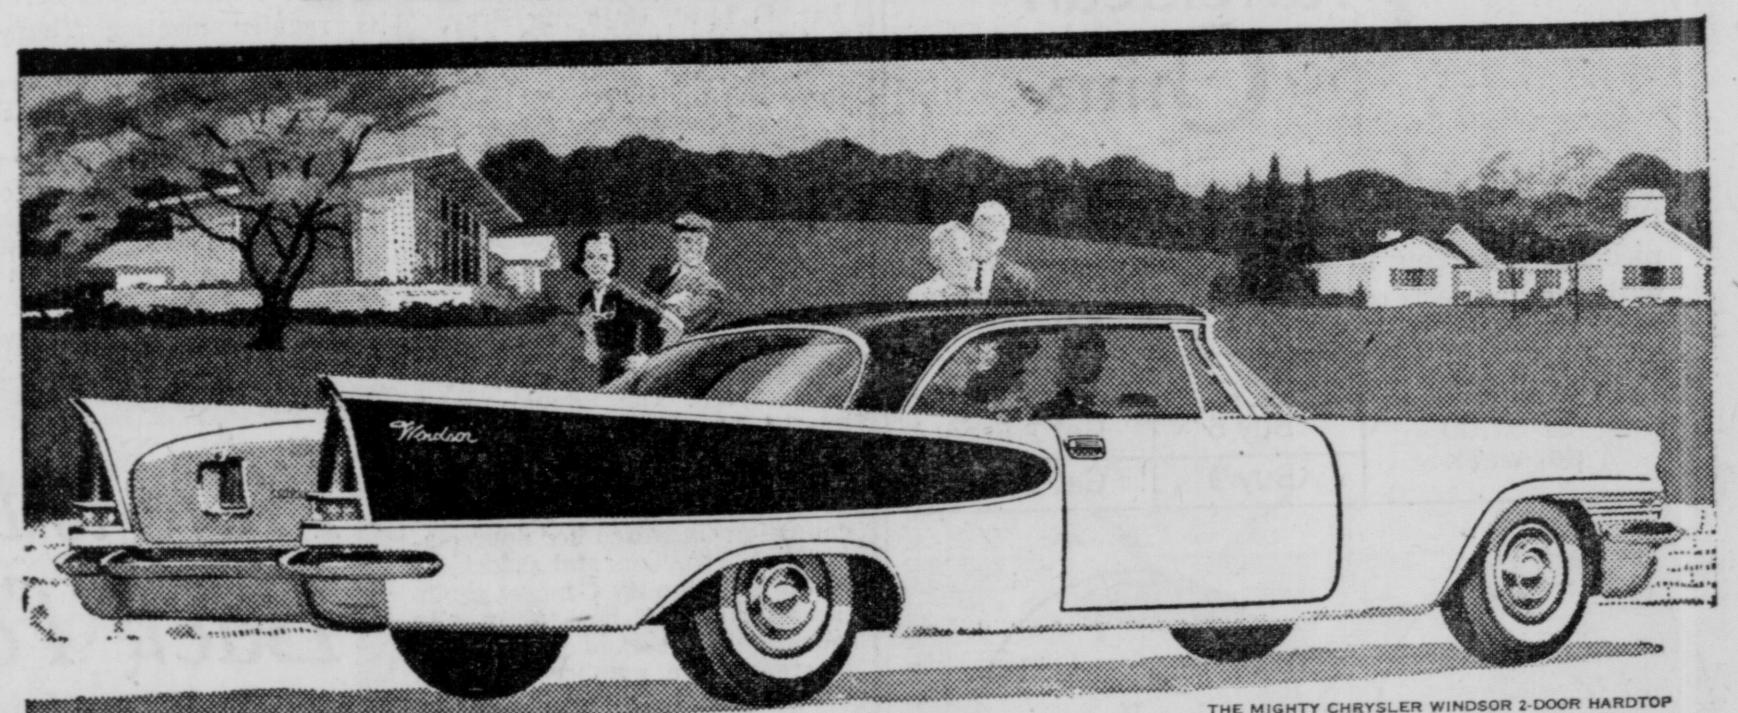

Best investment for tax dollars—concrete.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your drugstore. Money back guarantee.

Guild's Annual Ball Is Page One Success; New Paltz Resident Is Crowned New Queen

Miss Kathleen Vett, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Vett Jr., New Paltz, was crowned Page One Queen of 1957 at the second annual Page One Guild Ball held Saturday at The Barn, and six of Ulster county's leading citizens received awards for outstanding service.

More than 300 viewed the coronation, conferring of awards and a program of Broadway talent.

The new queen is a junior at New Paltz High School. She is a member of the high school choir and lists among her hobbies, hiking and horseback riding.

Finalists also included Mary A. Coffey, 129 Hurley avenue, Libby Lee, Woodstock, Ann Russell, Woodstock and Crystal Jobst, Saugerties.

Dignitaries Attend

Master of ceremonies, Dick McCarthy, opened the program by introducing the Guild's president, Charles J. Tiano, who greeted the assembly.

Among those attending were Mayor and Mrs. Frederick H.

Stang; Arthur Rosenstock, member of the International Newspaper Guild's executive board; Michael Potoker, executive secretary of the New York Newspaper Guild; Mayor Eugene Glusker, Ellenville; Mayor Catherine O'Leary, Rosendale; Mayor Robert Reid, New Paltz.

For the queen's coronation, Mrs. Aleksander Narel presented gifts donated by area merchants.

The queen, in addition to receiving these gifts, was also presented with a cup and a charm bracelet on behalf of the Guild.

Finalists were also presented with inscribed charm bracelets and gifts from area merchants.

Entertainment Lauded

The program of Broadway entertainment received many accolades from those attending. They included Davy Karr, comedian; The Phillips, dance team; Betty Jane Watson and Jerry Austen, vocal duo; and Jerry Mar, vocalist.

Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig sang the national anthem.

Music was provided by Clementine Nessel's Page One Orchestra.

At the conclusion of the event, large baskets of flowers were sent by the Guild to St. Mary's Church in Saugerties and St. Joseph's Church, Glasco.

A large cake baked for the occasion by Schwenk's Bakery, was sent to the Children's Home.

Community Concert Workers Start Campaign; KHS Choir Entertains at Kick-off Meeting

Community Concert Association workers started on their final week of solicitation Sunday afternoon as they met in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mrs. Bernard Forst, co-chairman of the membership drive, reported 717 memberships enrolled leaving $52 to be subscribed before Saturday noon.

Three concerts are planned for members next season with the NBC Opera Company's production of "Madam Butterfly" as the major attraction. All programs will be at the Community Theatre, Broadway.

Anyone may join by paying the annual dues this week to any worker or at headquarters in Governor Clinton Hotel daily from 9:30 to 5 p. m. and to noon Saturday. For information telephone calls will be received at headquarters through the hotel number 2700.

A special musical was presented at the workers' meeting by 28 members of Kingston High School's A Cappella Choir under the direction of Leonard Stine. Their numbers included "Give Ear, O Lord, Unto My Prayer" by Drozdof; "Create in Me, O God, a Pure Heart," Brahms; three spirituals: "Jacob's Ladder" arranged by Wilson, "Mary Had a Baby" and "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" arranged by Dawson. As an encore they sang "Set Down Servant" arranged by Robert Shaw. Miss Francine Turk was the accompanist.

Joseph Craig, president, conducted the meeting. New board members were introduced by John McCullough. The annual report of the treasurer was given by Stanton Warren.

Mrs. K. Edward Lefren, co-chairman with Mrs. Forst of the campaign expressed her appreciation to the workers and associates in the Community Concert group in which she has personally worked and served with much interest for a number of years. The Lefren family will soon be moving to Wilmington, Del., where Mr. Lefren has a new assignment with the Hercules Powder Co.

In greeting the workers, David

ASKING SUBSTITUTE BRIDGE PLAYER

A reader tells me: "I belong to a bridge club and we play cards once a week. It so happened that something turned up that made it impossible for me to play cards with the group last week. I called a friend of mine whom all the others knew and asked her if she would fill in for me. She said she would be glad to. Was I wrong to ask someone to fill my place, or should I have called the hostess and told her that I couldn't make it and leave it up to her to get someone? I thought I was doing her a favor by doing this as I know it can be very difficult to get someone to fill in at the last minute, but it seems she resented this. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

I do think you should have consulted the hostess before asking someone to fill your place as she herself may have had someone she would have liked to ask. If she knew of no one, then you could have offered to call your friend.

Film Stars Marry

Carson City, Nev., May 6 (AP)—Actress Shelly Winters and Anthony Franciosa, a leading player in a film being made on a location near here, are honeymooning today. The blonde, 34-year-old actress and Franciosa, who is 28, were married Saturday night under their real names. Justice of the Peace Dan Murphy said he had no idea that Shirley Schiff and Anthony Papaleo were film stars. "It was just another wedding," he said yesterday of the five-minute ceremony, performed at his home.

Schwenk Says Junior High
Recommended 21 Years Ago

Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk said today on the eve of the referendum for a new junior high school at Dietz Stadium that such construction was recommended 21 years ago and "is even more vital to the educational future of our Kingston youth today."
The alderman-at-large, now serving the second year of a term to which he was elected in 1955, previously occupied the post from 1932 to 1948. Mr. Schwenk said, in a letter to The Freeman, that he served as chairman of a school committee of the Common Council in 1936, "appointed at the suggestion of Superintendent Van Ingen and Mayor Heiselman."

Many of that committee's recommendations have since been adopted, he said.

"It was also proposed in 1936 that the Kingston educational system move from the 8-4 plan to the 6-3-3 plan which would now become a reality with the Stadium school," Mr. Schwenk said.
His letter follows:
"In 1936 I served as chairman of a school committee of the common council appointed at the suggestion of Superintendent Van Ingen and Mayor Heiselman. At that time this committee made an extensive study of school plant facilities. "Many of the recommendations of that committee have since been adopted by the Board of Education such as the purchase of the Fair Grounds now known as Dietz Stadium, fencing in of school properties, as well as the construction of a school in the eleventh or twelfth ward area. Other recommendations made at the time are now being considered such as the construction of a second junior high school in the area now proposed for such construction. It was also proposed in 1936 that the Kingston educational system move from the 8-4 plan to the 6-3-3 plan which would now become a reality with the advent of the proposed Dietz Stadium school."

Industry Here Now
"At the time the above recommendations were made, 21 years ago action had to be postponed because of the necessity of providing relief to the more than 2000 unemployed in depression years. It was suggested that a concerted drive be made to bring new industry into the area thus providing employment for all. "Today we have the industry, employment is at an all time high, and the financial condition of the Board of Education is excellent. We still do not have second junior high school or the 6-3-3 plan but the recommendation made in 1936 to purchase the Dietz Stadium property and the construction of the proposed school at that site would provide both."

Stresses Need
"Because I believe that the construction of this school, as the school committee of 1936 recommended but was delayed by depression and war years, is even more vital to the educational future of our Kingston youth today than it was then I intend to vote 'yes' on the proposed junior high school construction and earnestly urge all Kingston citizens to join me at the polls on Tuesday, May 7, 1957 and cast a 'yes' vote for the future of our boys and girls."

Qualified Voters
Urged to Vote
By C of C Head

All qualified Kingston City voters were strongly urged by Vincent R. Burns, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, to vote tomorrow on the bond issue for the proposed junior high school.

"This is a most important issue," Mr. Burns said, "and regardless as to whether you favor the bond issue or are opposed, it is the duty of every qualified voter to go to one of the nine widely scattered polling places tomorrow, between the hours of 12:00 o'clock noon and 9:00 p. m., and exercise the privilege and duty to secretly vote yes or no on the question."

"Fortunately many citizens do take an interest in public questions and take advantage of all means available to let others know about their views," Burns continued. "Both sides have been well represented. We should weigh the arguments presented and then vote. The important thing is to get out and vote. Many propositions in the past have been either approved or lost due to the indifference of voters. Let's not be sorry on Wednesday that the bond issue was either approved or defeated by less than a majority of the qualified voters expressing their preference."

Police Deny Force Used

New York, May 6 (AP)—A jobless Bronx man says police physically forced him to confess hurling his 8-year-old cousin to her death from a six-story roof after a sexual assault. Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Harold Enten termed the story a "complete fabrication." The defendant, Aristides Perez, 34, was held without bail yesterday on a homicide charge. A hearing was set for May 10.

Tipping is a great problem. How much should one give? Most people want to give enough, but not too much, and, of course, many consider they should not have to tip, thinking they have paid enough for what they have received. Yet many people have noticed deterioration in service when a customer is known as a non-tipper or not giving enough.

State Will Spend $168,000 In Fight Against Alcoholism

Albany, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—New York state will spend $168,000 next year in a four-front offensive against alcoholism.

The State Interdepartmental Health Resources Board today announced it would conduct the program, using education, research, training and clinical demonstration.

There now are about 500,000 excessive or problem drinkers within the state, according to Dr. I. Jay Brightman, executive director of the board.

Brightman said direct service to alcoholics is best administered on a local level with aid from the state. The board's program, he said, "will be of considerable assistance to the communities in developing their own programs of direct service for alcoholics."

The educational part of the drive will attempt to fill the gap in trained personnel. Fellowships of $300 each will be provided for professional workers with preference given to those who would work on educating communities in the treatment of alcoholism. In research, the board now supports a project at the State University College of Medicine in Brooklyn. An additional state grant of $80,000 will go to the Brooklyn project this year, Brightman said. The college is probing several aspects of alcoholism—social, economic, clinical, psychiatric and pharmaceutical.

The board also will push a training program to keep physicians and communities up to date on the latest developments in the field.

Two pilot demonstration alcoholism clinics, one in Rochester and the other in Binghamton, will receive financial assistance from the board for another year.

The State Interdepartmental Health Resources Board was formed in 1956 to deal with complex problems that cross the dividing lines of many state departments.

Alcoholism, the board said, is just such a many-sided problem, affecting the departments of health, mental hygiene, social welfare, education and labor, as well as the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Briefly Told

Richmond, Va., May 6 (AP)—The Bechtel Corp. of San Francisco and New York will construct an 88-million-dollar aluminum reduction plant at Massena, N. Y., for the Reynolds Metals Co.

Reynolds announced the contract award yesterday and said grading and site preparation would begin immediately. The 100,000-ton capacity plant is scheduled for completion by Nov. 1, 1959.

Albany, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—Business activity in New York state hit 133 in March—an all-time high. Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson says.

The mark was six points higher than for the same month a year ago. The index uses 1947-49 activity as 100.

Dickinson said yesterday the recovery between February and March was due largely to increased construction, retail trade and finance, insurance and real estate.

Factory production, service and wholesale trade components also gained.

Non-farm employment reached 5,988,000—about 11,000 higher than in the same month last year. In the week ended April 5, claims for unemployment insurance benefits totaled 220,000—the lowest level for 1957 and down about 37,000 from the figure for the corresponding week in 1956.

Sidney, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—The Scintilla Division of the Bendix Aviation Corp. today became the first plant in New York state to receive a fifth Civil Defense plant protection award.

The awards are made to plants that meet official Civil Defense standards in providing for protection of workers and property in the event of an emergency.

Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner, director of the State Civil Defense Commission, presented the award to Division General Manager G. E. Steiner in ceremonies at the plant.

Albany, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—John Roosevelt hasn't decided whether he would accept the Republican nomination for governor in 1958.

The son of the late Democratic President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was asked Saturday night to say whether he would accept the nomination.

It's too soon to decide, the younger Roosevelt answered. He explained that he would need "a little time" to consider the question.

Roosevelt was queried at the annual Grant Day dinner of the Albany County Republican organization. He has been mentioned as a possible GOP candidate for mayor of New York city.

Modena

Modena, May 4—Plans are complete for the participation of Modena unit, Ulster County Home Extension Service in the annual Achievement Day Wednesday at the Elementary School in Walkkill.

The local unit members are arranging a display of work achieved in projects taught at meetings during the past year.

The regular meeting of the Town Board of Plattkill will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Town Building, Modena.

Modena Rod and Gun Club will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Special services observing Mothers Day will be conducted in Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches Sunday, May 12.

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the church will furnish carnations for all mothers attending the services.

The regular meeting of the Democratic Club of the Town of Plattkill will be held Monday, May 13, at 8 p. m. at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Marian Jensen will be hostess at a meeting of Wesleyan Service Guild of Modena Methodist Church Tuesday, May 14, at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Alison Swords will be in charge of devotions and evening program.

A representation of the local unit attended the New York Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday at Grace Methodist Church, Newburgh.

At the conclusion of the election and installation of officers, and a pledge service, a drama was presented by the Warwick WSCS, entitled "To Make Christ Known."

At a recent fellowship supper served in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, a talent dollar plan was inaugurated among the members and friends of Modena Methodist Church.

After the Rev. John E. Swords, pastor, read the parable of the talents from Matthew 25, a talent dollar was given to each person present wishing to participate in the plan.

Just as each steward in the parable, was entrusted with talents to be put to work for his master, so each participant in the talent-dollar plan, was advised to use his own initiative, and with the help of the talent dollar, reap a financial gain for the Lord.

At a later date the talent-dollars and their profit will be called in.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Laura June Grigg, formerly of Sparta, N. Y., and more recently of Sparta, N. Y., to Clark Redman McCloy Jr., at Miami, Fla., March 31.

The Grigg family lived in the former Modena Hotel, and moved to South Carolina several years ago, when Miss Grigg entered the Converse College to train for laboratory technician.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Schoonmaker of New Hurley became the parents of a son, Richard Allan, born Wednesday May 1, at Goshen Hospital.

Mrs. Schoonmaker is the former Roselyn DeWitt of Modena.

The May meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eldred Smith.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Lillian Courter, and the program study "Hope Rises from the Land" in charge of Mrs. Ira Hyatt.

IN THE Service

Proposed Junior High Questions and Answers

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

Ten reasons why you should vote "YES" tomorrow for the proposed junior high school at Dietz Stadium area.

1. Your child needs a sound education to compete with others in society today. A restricted educational program puts him at an unfair disadvantage.

2. Your school system is a good system. Keep it that way by furnishing the necessities of a good program.

3. Crowding existing facilities any further would eliminate state-mandated programs and thus reduce state aid and impose an additional financial burden on Kingston taxpayers.

4. The alternative is "double sessions," an expensive, unsatisfactory, temporary solution which, at best, would provide only a "boiled down," restricted educational program.

5. Resident birth rate is still climbing and these children must have a place to sit down in the classroom.

6. Right now grades 7-8-9 are housed in four buildings. All four are at their utmost capacity right now. Where will the ever increasing student population go?

7. Building costs are still rising and failure to face the problem now may result in an even higher cost of construction and rate of interest.

8. Right now the cost of the program can be a continuation of four present payments on the indebtedness thus making the burden as light as possible.

9. The building is well constructed, well designed, well planned, and merits your support.

10. As a citizen, to vote is your right. As a parent, to vote is your duty.

Three Die in Crash

Schaghticoke, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—The collision of an automobile and a light delivery truck near this Rensselaer county village last night killed three persons and left three others injured critically.

State police identified the victims as George M. Powell, 43, of Watervliet; his wife, Eleanor, also 43; and Janice L. Milo, 17, of Troy. The injured, in Troy hospitals, are John T. Keoughan, 21, Dorothy Testa, 18, and Alexander Chonski, 20, all of Troy.

McCarthy Seen

communications from Senate committees and in F. B. I. reports long before the Wisconsin Senator in 1950 brought the fight out into the open.

Incidentally, even after death, they still vilify Sen. McCarthy in Great Britain. Yet, had there been in the British Parliament only a fraction of the alertness which was generated by the Wisconsin Senator's crusade here, the treason of Burgess and Maclean and the transmission of atomic secrets to the Soviets by Klaus Fuchs—who had been "cleared" for work in an American laboratory by British officials—might never have occurred.

Indeed, the whole history of the "cold war," with its costly budgets, might then have been different.

Time, of course, changes many things. It sometimes makes martyrs out of men who were pilloried during their lifetime.

The elder Robert La Follette, Senator from Wisconsin, also refused to testify before a Senate committee. He was being investigated because of public speeches—regarded by many people as traitorous—which he made while America was engaged in World War 1. The two houses of the Wisconsin Legislature—controlled by his own party—formally called on the United States Senate to expel him. But the Senate took no action. Only last week, the elder La Follette was selected by a Senate committee to be one of the five in the Senate's "Hall of Fame." The lapse of time seems to furnish a different perspective on the record of Wisconsin Senators and maybe, many years hence, history will repeat itself.

Radio Moscow's "tribute" to Sen. McCarthy is to denounce him as responsible for "the preparation of new military ventures by the United States." To have helped alert America to the menace of communism is to have earned Moscow's hatred—which is the most eloquent epitaph that could be written for Joe McCarthy.

Ryan Resigns as President of New York-New Jersey League

Darlene Rigney, a double winner, is running away from the field in the 50-yard dash for girls in the 6-7 year group in Saturday's Elks Lodge track and bike meet at Dietz Stadium. Betty Hoffman finished second and Lindy Keane, third.

Fred Davi Named Temporary Head Committee Appointed To Name New Prexy

Mayor William D. Ryan of Newburgh, founder and only president of the New York-New Jersey Baseball League since its organization five years ago, resigned Sunday because of the pressure of business.

League directors named Fred J. Davi, manager of the Kingston Colonials, temporary president and appointed a nominating committee to come up with a new presidential candidate at the business meeting held at Staatsburg.

The league then named Ryan honorary president.

Committee Named

The five-man nominating committee includes Jack Rivenbergh, Saugerties; Jack Val, Nyack; Louis R. Shapiro, Newburgh; George Roth, Brooklyn; and George Dutcher, Poughkeepsie.

Ryan told league directors the mounting pressure of official duties as mayor of Newburgh make it impossible for him to devote the necessary time to the league presidency.

"A huge program that will drastically affect the City of Newburgh financially and geographically will make heavy demands on my time," Ryan said. "I don't think I will be able to do justice to the job of president of this league."

Ryan went on to say that the league has achieved maturity and everything is in order for the 1957 season, which gets under way this weekend.

League directors at first refused to accept resignation but when Ryan insisted he could not continue in the office, they acceded to his wishes and created the post of honorary president.

Ryan indicated he desired to resign after the 1956 season but the definite possibility of expansion made him change his mind.

Now the expansion is a fact.

The directors voted a $750.00 prize fund for the 1957 season, with prizes to go to the first five teams. The breakdown is $250 for first place; $200, $150, $100 and $50 for fifth place. No playoffs are contemplated because of the 90-game schedule.

An effort to revise the new roster restrictions was rejected by the managers.

Williams Hit And Sidelined

Cleveland, May 5 (AP)—Ted Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, was injured in the first game of a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians today when hit on the right forearm by a pitch thrown by the Indians' Stan Pitula.

Gene Stephens replaced Williams in the outfield.

After viewing X-rays of the elbow, doctors at the University Hospital said he suffered no serious injury or broken bones.

It is not known whether the injury will keep him out of the lineup when Boston plays the White Sox in Chicago Tuesday.

Peterson Slams 606

Herb Peterson shot 606, with 225-171-210 and Joe Koskie slammed 174-198-232-604 for top efforts in the Ferraro Mixed League.

Rita La Rocca posted 498, Harold Smith 206-555, Mary Donnelly 463, Mabel Chapman 531, Bill Wilt 509, Ed Koskie 204-574, Sue Healey 410, Sis Balash 211-498, Bob McCaffrey 556, Charles Gildersleeve 206-542, Irene Cooper 407, John Schatzel 210-496, Carol Enright 440, Helen Harris 453, Jack Duffner 221-515, Howard Brooks 202-527, Virginia Hoffman 415, Bill Beckert 511, Lois Runge 424.

Team results:

DiVincenzo's 284 Takes 1st Place In Colonial Golf

Fort Worth, Tex., May 6 (AP)—Roberto De Vincenzo, the "play for fun" golfer who wins the big checks incidentally, went home to Mexico City today ready to convert $5,000 first money in the Colonial National Invitation tournament into pesos.

"It was a something like 60,000 pesos," he smiled as he left the PGA golf tour. The others rolled on to Hot Springs, Ark., for a tournament starting Thursday.

De Vincenzo won Colonial yesterday with the highest score ever recorded—284 for 72 holes. But his cool, devil-may-care play down the stretch as Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., saw his castle of dreams felled by bogeys under the pressure, was of championship caliber.

Fires Round of 68

De Vincenzo had a 2-under-par 68 in the third round and he closed with a 70 on the final hole. Mayer, who had taken a 4-stroke lead to start the last 18 holes, wilted to a 75.

Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., was third with 286.

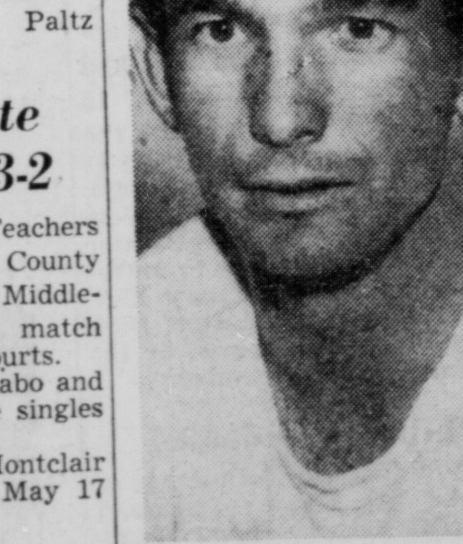

Thirty-six holes were played yesterday in a double up that brought the rain-plagued tournament to an end. One round was washed out Friday.

It was the second time for De Vincenzo to win $5,000 in a golf tournament. The first was when he took top money in the Brazilian Open, but he never had won that much in a United States tournament.

Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., still is the leading money winner by a long margin. Ford won $1,600 here with a sixth place finish.

Garcia Takes Title

Havana, May 5 (AP)—Angel (Robinson) Garcia, 129 1/2, won Cuba's junior lightweight championship last night by receiving a unanimous decision over Orlando Echevarria, 128 1/2, in a 12-round fight at the Sports Palace. There were no knockdowns.

MISJUDGED—Willie Shoemaker, above, who rode Galant Man to a close second finish in the Kentucky Derby in Louisville, May 4, admitted to race stewards after the race that he had misjudged the finish and had eased his colt short of the finish line. (AP Wirephoto)

Relief Artist Stifles Dodgers Johnson Pleasant Surprise On Hill to Haney and Braves

The question is: "Who did Ernie Johnson surprise the most — Brooklyn or his own manager, Fred Haney?"

The 32-year-old righthander ranked somewhere back of everybody else on the Milwaukee pitching staff. Haney hadn't used him in a month — and the last time was in an exhibition game, against the Dodgers, in Fort Worth.

And when the Dodgers knocked out Bob Buhl, who had beaten them eight times last season, for a 5-2 first-inning lead yesterday at Ebbets Field, Ray Crone was Haney's relief selection. It wasn't until the fourth, after Hittin' Henry Aaron had belted a three-run homer to cut the Dodgers lead to 7-6, that Haney gave Johnson a call.

He didn't have to ring twice. Johnson hustled on, set down the first 16 men he faced and walked just one and permitted one hit, Gino Cimoli's blooper to left in the ninth.

Yanks Take First

While the Braves were showing the Dodgers who's boss in the opener of their two-game set, the New York Yankees were explaining the facts of life to the Chicago White Sox. The world champs took two from the Sox, 4-2 and 3-0, behind Bobby Shantz and Johnny Kucks—sweeping the three-game set. They replaced Chicago in the 202-527, Virginia Hoffman 415, Bill Beckert 511, Lois Runge 424.

Mexican Standoff In Eastern League
By The Associated Press
The six teams in the Eastern Baseball League got nowhere yesterday.

Three doubleheaders were scheduled. Each of the teams won a game for a trio of splits.

Reading defeated league-leading Schenectady 8-6 in an 11-inning opener and dropped the second game 7-6. Binghamton halted Albany 8-3, then succumbed 8-7. Syracuse and Springfield posted one run victories, Syracuse winning the first game 3-2 and Springfield the second 2-1.

96 Entries Get Prizes, Awards

Three hundred twenty-five youngsters competed for 96 prizes in the Elks Lodge's third annual track and field meet Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

In the bike races and running events, doubles were scored by Gene Alley, Darlene Rigney and Gail Stringer.

Primo Montafia, chairman of the meet, said the Elks Lodge distributed 1,000 hot dogs and 1,000 bottles of soda pop.

Edith McSpirt won the competition for the best decorated bike, with Tom Rigney second and Marianne Dykstra, third.

Daniel Gazewich of 8 Fairview avenue won the prize of a new bicycle. The Detroit Red Wings is the only hockey club to win the Stanley Cup series in eight straight games.

Schatzel's 1773 Still Holds 1st In State Tenpins

With three more weeks to go, Mrs. Rose Schatzel of Kingston continues to lead the all-events division of the New York State women's bowling tournament with a nine-game aggregate of 1773.

All class A leaders remained undisturbed in weekend shooting at Elmira.

Murray's at New York bettered the total of Cirlin's of New York to take over second place in the Class A team division from the 1956 team champions. The Murray's five rolled 2732 and pushed Cirlin's to third spot with 2716.

The Admirals of Buffalo remained on top with 2770.

Both Class B and Class C in the team event saw new leaders in control. The Grand Views of Elmira, with 2529 rolled into the "B" lead with 2529, while the Bob Cats, Rochester, took over Class C with 2351.

Dave Winters, 2, Gaby Terwilliger, 3, Bob Cunningham, 1, 100-yard dash, girls 11-12: 1. Elaine Harper; 2. Mary Cunningham; 3. Ernie O'Dell.

Oneonta Defeats State, 6-4

Haber Homers To Pace Attack

Kingston's own Bill Haber slammed out three hits, including a home run, to pace Oneonta State Teachers to a 6-4 victory over New Paltz Teachers College Saturday on the Paltz diamond.

The contest was the opener of the campaign for the Hawks who play a nine-game schedule. Frank Buckley, a senior right-hander, was tagged for the loss. The Red Dragons used two hurlers, Harrington and Vronman, with the former the winner.

New Paltz scored three of its runs in the first inning and collected just three hits in the entire game. One by a circuit blast by rightfielder Fred Yardley.

The Hawks journey to Danbury (Conn.) Tuesday for their next game. Their next home contest is May 14 with Waterbury (Conn.).

High School Athletes Slated for Busy Week

With continued cooperation from the weatherman, scholastic athletes can look forward to activity every day this week including Saturday.

The climax of the busy week will be the running of the Hudson Valley Relays Saturday at New Paltz Central school. But before that gigantic affair gets underway, schoolboy ballplayers will have engaged in 14 games, the cindermen in three track meets, and the tennis and golfers in a host of matches.

As usual, today was reserved for play in both the village and city DUSO Leagues. Also on tap was a postponed UCL game involving Saugerties and visiting Highland.

Kingston High went after its second straight loop win at Middletown and defending champion Poughkeepsie High made its circuit bow at Port Jervis. In the village play, Ellenville hosted Fallsburgh and Liberty was at Monticello.

Netmen, Golfers in Action
Maroon golfers and netmen were also in action, with the former hosting Catskill and the tennis team playing at Ellenville.

Tuesday's slate features a vital UCL tilt at Boiceville involving Oneonta Central and Saugerties, the two early season powers of the circuit. Marlboro at Highland and Wallkill at Rondout Valley rounds out things. Track takes over the spotlight on Wednesday as customary. Saugerties' unbeaten thincads host Hudson and New Paltz journey to Oneonta.

Kingston-Newburgh clash at the Hilly City highlights Thursday's program. Poughkeepsie goes to Middletown in other play. KHS netmen make their first home appearance with Newburgh and the swingers tangle with Liberty the same day.

Friday's baseball card is dominated exclusively by UCL nines, with a seeing action. The leagues schedule lists New Paltz at Oneonta, Wallkill at Highland and Marlboro at Rondout Valley. Saugerties goes against Cox-sackie in non-league action at Cantine Field.

The Maroon cindermen travel to Middletown to face the powerful Middies who stung highly regarded Port Jervis in their initial meet. Kingston also won its opener, routing Arlington. The relays on Saturday are expected to attract some 100 schools within a 50-mile radius. Activity is slated to start at around 1 p. m.

Crosby's 593 Leads Tavern

Bill Crosby wrapped games of 174 and 194 around a middle 225 for high series of 593 in the Tavern Association League.

Loria Keglers Take Over Lead In State Tourney

Poughkeepsie, May 6 (AP)—A big Sunday night juggled leaders in the annual New York State Men's Bowling tournament.

The team lead last night went to V. Loria and Son of New York City, which rolled 2919 and dropped Noah's Ark of Rochester to second place. Noah's Ark had led with 2908.

Loria's pace-setter, Mario Bosone, moved into first place in the all-events division with 1956 and second place in the singles with 688.

Paul Georges of New York City rolled 248, 242 and 234 for 724 and first place in the singles. In the only other change in the standings, James White and Richard Rhea of Poughkeepsie, won second place in the doubles with 1251.

The tournament ends June 2. The standings:

Jaycee Net Tourney Set for May 18 and 19

Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce has set the weekend of May 18 and 19 for its third annual Junior and Boys tennis tournament to be held at Forsyth Park.

Awards will be given to the top players in each division. The winners will go on an expense-paid trip to Niagara Falls to vie in the Jaycee state tourney. Winners there will then qualify for a trip to Santa Monica, Calif., for the nationals.

Qualifications

The Junior division takes in boys who had not turned 18 by Jan. 1 of this year. The Boys Class embraces those who did not reach 15 by the first of the year.

Application blanks are now being circulated and will appear in The Freeman later this week. The deadline for mailing is May 15. They should be sent to Jaycees Tennis, 113A Fairmont avenue, Kingston.

Starting Time

Matches on Saturday the 18th will begin at 9 a. m. Candidates will be notified of the exact starting time. Jaycees will supply tennis balls.

In case of inclement weather, play will be postponed to the following weekend (May 25-26). George Georgallis is chairman of the tourney committee. Committeemen include Dick Cornish, Bill Steuding and Henry Beisner.

Ivy Head Vexed Over Alleged Code Violation

Ithaca, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—An Ivy League official says it is "unfortunate" that a college president "should fail to cooperate" with the league eligibility committee in connection with an alleged breach of eligibility rules.

Prof. Frederick G. Marcham of Cornell University, chairman of the committee, said he had received no information from William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, in the case of an Ohio schoolboy athlete allegedly lured to an Ivy League school.

Stevenson said in a recent speech that the schoolboy had decided to enroll in an Ivy group university because its offer was "more substantial than those of 12 other schools."

When asked what he meant by more substantial, Stevenson replied: "Under the table and beyond the code."

Asks for Explanation
Marcham asked Stevenson for an explanation but said he had received no reply.

Stevenson said last Thursday he would not identify the schoolboy, whom he described as an "innocent bystander."

Marcham said he "regretted" Stevenson's reported unwillingness "to supply the information 'in view of the gravity of the charge.'"

"It is unfortunate," he said, "that president Stevenson should fail to cooperate with the eligibility committee after he himself had taken a high moral position in attacking other college presidents who did not enforce amateur athletic codes."

In his speech, Stevenson accused colleges of failing to enforce amateur athletic rules.

Little Leaguers

Tryouts for the Jaycee Little League will be held on the upper diamond at Forsyth Park on the following dates: May 6-7-8-9, also May 13-14. Time is 6 p. m. Boys should bring birth certificates and parent release form.

Prospect Dairy Wins In Softball, 8 to 5

Clem McCarthy Undergoes Surgery

New York, May 6 (AP)—Retired sportscaster Clem McCarthy, 80, underwent surgery last night for a fractured hip received in an auto accident.

A spokesman at Mount Sinai Hospital said McCarthy "came out of surgery well" and was in good condition. He was injured Saturday night when the car in which he was riding struck a lightpole on the Bronx Parkway.

Expert in Amateur Radio Will Speak Here on Thursday

FRANK LESTER

Frank Lester, sales engineer for the Hammarlund Manufacturing Co., Inc., New York city and well-known in amateur radio circles, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Ulster County Mike and Key Club at 8 p. m., Thursday at St. John's Parish Hall on Albany avenue.

Dr. Curtis Bight (KN2TGG), who obtained the speaker, said that anyone interested in amateur radio, whether a licensed operator, a club member or not, was invited.

In his capacity as sales engineer, Mr. Lester calls on both manufacturers and the radio trade, promoting the use and sale of Hammarlund communications receivers, accessories and variable capacitors.

Mr. Lester (W2AMJ, Bergenfield, N. J.) has been an active radio amateur for more than 30 years. He is currently working the two-meter band and occasionally on lower bands.

During his years in radio Mr. Lester designed many accessory items for the amateur and professional. In addition, he has written a large number of technical articles which have appeared in the trade and technical magazines.

He is a member of the Quarter Century Wireless Operators Association and the American Radio Relay League.

May 6, 1957

Editor, The Freeman:
There are two very important factors to consider in making a decision on the proposed Junior High School.

First, is there a need?

A study of our area as far back as 1952 showed that by 1959 there would be an acute need for another Junior High School. This was, of course, before large industry settled in our area and before we thought of consolidation. With these added factors and the tremendous growth of our area what finer duty should we perform than to provide adequate and modern educational facilities for our youngsters. I'm sure that most of us know that to build a new school we must have the consent of the New York State Department of Education. They make a complete study of the educational needs of an area, location, plans and costs. They have given us the green light on this project.

We have read a full and complete report of the Junior High School given to us by the Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools. Yet we still see figures that seem fantastic. Why not take an average taxpayer whose property is assessed for $6,000. It would cost Mr. Average Citizen of Kingston approximately $1.50 per thousand or $9.00 a year to give the youth of our area a new school.

What better investment can we make?

Sincerely,
RICHARD M. KALISH

Wildcat Strike Over

Detroit, May 6 (AP)—Production resumed at Chrysler Corp. plants today as truck drivers ended a four-day wildcat walk-out that had idled more than 40,000 workers. Officers of Local 212, United Auto Workers union, ordered the return to work pending outcome of a strike vote set for Wednesday on a job security dispute and other issues. The strike of 25 stamping division truck drivers last Thursday caused shutdown of all Chrysler production by halting movement of materials between the company's Chrysler, Dodge, DeSoto and Plymouth plants.
